Heroic Hungary Fights against Hopeless Odds

Women, Children Join Bitter Struggle To Oust Russian Horde

BELGRADE (AP)—Hungarian men, women and children threw themselves with renewed fury into heavy fighting against the Russians in stricken Budapest today, informed sources here report. The fighting was described as about as intense as it was when the anti-Russian, anti-Communist revolt began Oct. 23.

That was the revolt which unseated the pro-Moscow government of Premier Andras Hegedus and started Hungary on the road to independence.

Informants in this independent Communist capital said extremely heavy fighting lasted continuously throughout Monday and rose in intensity in the daylight hours, particularly in the Gellert hills area of Budapest.

While there appeared to be no hope for the revolution now, there was a prospect that for some time to come Hungary would be in for a period of bitter guerrilla warfare waged by rebels from the interior of the country.

In Budapest, women darted into the streets and threw grenades at Soviet tanks, reports from that capital said, and other women sniped at the Russians from the windows of buildings. Even children were seen handling weapons. The situation was described as one of utter confusion and chaos.

APPEAL AFTER appeal was broadcast by radio Budapest to the rebels to lay down their arms. The new provisional "government of workers and peasants" under Premier Janos Kadar was in control of radio Pecs and radio Miskolc, which, along with Budapest radio, were broadcasting the appeals.

But the insurgents were on the air again too, from unlocated points inside the country, begging the rebels not to surrender their arms, but to keep them hidden for future use against the Russians.

While Andrew Craig, Washington C. H., was in New York City over the weekend, he witnessed an un-rehearsed ceremony which would have made a lasting impression on any observer.

Here's his description of the scene as he gave it to Art Berman, Record-Herald reporter, who, since he is a New York native, knows the locale well:

A solemn and silent procession shuffled across Park Ave. in New York City Sunday afternoon. It was a sad and mournful group that moved quietly past the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, through the gray canyons of the great city, and then south to the United Nations Building.

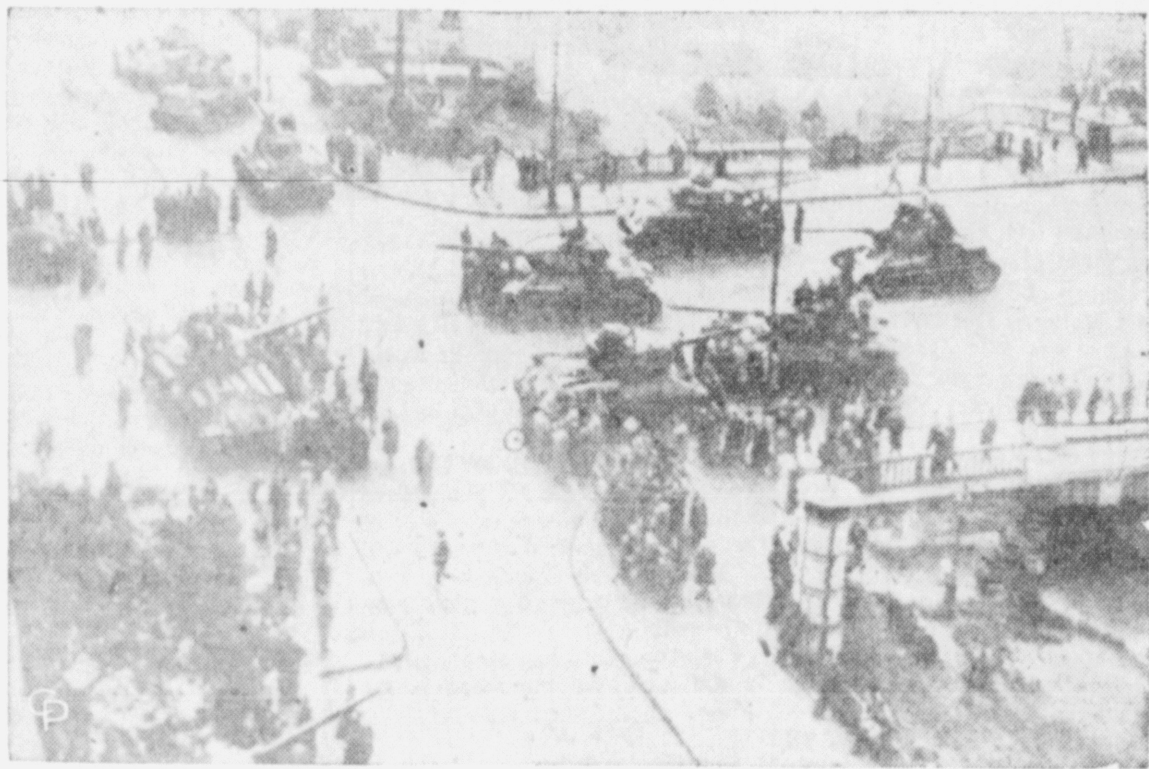

There were at least 3,000 marchers, but they could have been a handful or a million. It did not matter because they symbolized misery and suffering and longing—and that cannot be measured in numbers. They marched in protest. Black armbands, black flags and a draped coffin were the signs of their emotions.

They were young and old, male and female. Again it did not matter. They all were united in their hearts and in their hopes. They prayed for a free Hungary, and they despaired at knowing that Hungary is not free, but is at the mercy of Communist Russia.

They marched silently, past the 50,000 onlookers who always line the streets of the massive city. A policeman's horse whinnied and the sound of his steel shoes on the pavement broke the eerie silence of shuffling feet. Occasionally a spectator, almost unnoticed, would fall in line with the marchers. And the big city was quiet as they went by.

They felt in their hearts not unlike the 10 million Hungarians trapped behind the Iron Curtain.

A solemn and silent procession marched through New York City Sunday afternoon. Its muffled footfalls could be heard around the world.

New Congress Being Chosen

GOP Not Confident Of Regaining Edge

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's voters choose today a Congress to deal with the problems recommended during the next two years by Dwight D. Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson as president.

The Democrats now control both the House and Senate. They were outwardly confident they would control the new Congress which meets Jan. 3. The Republicans, voicing certainty Eisenhower would win, seemed less optimistic about their chances to capture Congress.

All but three of the 435 House seats but only 35 of the Senate's 96 seats are at stake. Maine elected its three House members, two Republicans and a Democrat, Sen. 10.

Democrats now control the House 232-203 and the Senate 49-47. The Democrats won the 1954 elections and wrested control from the Republicans, who were victors in 1952.

Only four times in the last 27 presidential years has the party that won the presidency failed to win control of Congress.

REPUBLICANS claim a minimum net gain of 25 House seats and one in the Senate. That would give them control of the House and tie in the Senate, which would be broken by the vice president. Democrats claim a net gain of at least 15 seats in the House and no Senate losses.

The fight for control of the Senate may be won in 12 states, although 33 states are electing senators. The House struggle centers on about 60 key districts which traditionally shift from one party to another.

Democrats are hopeful of winning Senate seats now occupied by Republicans in Ohio, California, Colorado, Illinois, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Republicans look for gains in Nevada, New York, Oregon, Washington, West Virginia and Kentucky, where two seats are at stake.

Very Heavy Vote Indicated As Ohioans Pour Into Polls

COLUMBUS (AP)—Voters in every corner of Ohio were turning out to the polls today in heavy to "very heavy" numbers.

Reports from Cleveland, Toledo, Canton, Columbus, Dayton and Mansfield at 10 a. m. indicated a heavy vote both in normally Republican polling places and in those which lean Democratic.

The day started bright and clear in many sections of Ohio, but in mid-morning a cloud cover spread over the state from the west and the weather bureau forecast rain in western Ohio by late afternoon or early evening.

One of the principal races that helped pull Ohio voters to the polls was the bid of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to unseat U. S.

Stevenson Urges President Find New Accord with Allies

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson urged President Eisenhower today to seek a new understanding with Great Britain and France "before Communist Russia can further exploit the present breakdown of relations between the democratic powers."

He did so in a statement issued shortly after his return home to vote in an election in which he has pursued the foreign policy issue almost up to the hour of voting. He suggested Eisenhower negotiate at once with Britain and France to:

1. "Restore peace in the Middle East, and save it from further Communist penetration.
2. "Discourage Russia from further aggressions in Eastern Europe, especially in Poland.
3. "Head off potential trouble in the Far East."

The crisis is getting worse, Stevenson said, adding that the "collapse" of the alliance with Britain and France has "encouraged the Red Army to march back into Hungary and crush its fight for freedom."

"If this fatal division in the West continues it will invite further Soviet troublemaking elsewhere, in Poland and Formosa, for example."

In Washington, Eisenhower delayed his voting trip to Pennsylvania 40 minutes past schedule today and was reported to have used the time for conferences on the boiling international situation.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had scheduled a start at 8:30 a. m. EST by automobile, but did not get underway until just after 9:10. He went to his office and was reported to have met there with Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency. There was no word from the White House on the nature of the talks.

Former Milledgeville Man Loses Leg in Tractor Shaft

Harry McNutt, 64, who moved from Milledgeville to the New Vienna community several weeks ago, lost his left leg at the hip Monday evening when he became entangled in a tractor shaft while helping fill a corn crib.

The accident occurred at 4 p. m. when McNutt, who was assisting with harvest work on the Burck Laymon farm, near New Vienna, took a wagon load of corn to one of the cribs.

6 Countries Offer Troops For U. N. Force

International Group Slated To Police Egypt After Truce Obtained

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced today that six countries had offered troops for an international police force to watch over a cease-fire in Egypt. The six are Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Pakistan, Norway and Sweden.

In a report to the General Assembly, Hammarskjold added other countries were considering participation and he believed "it should be possible to meet quickly at least the most basic need for personnel."

He estimated this at "a few units of the 'big power' members of the Security Council, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China, are barred from the force."

Hammarskjold reported as the Assembly got set for a new Russian move on the Middle East fighting following Security Council refusal to support Moscow's proposal that the United States join the Soviet in aiding Egypt against Britain, France and Israel.

The SECURITY Council voted 4-3 not to put the Soviet proposal on its agenda. This prevented any subsequent debate or vote on the proposal itself. Iran, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia were for taking up the subject. Australia, Britain, France and the United States voted against it. Belgium, Nationalist China, Cuba and Peru abstained.

The United States rejected the Russian proposal as "unthinkable." Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the council it "would convert Egypt into a still larger battlefield."

Here Are States To Watch when Votes Are Counted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ten of the states that supported Dwight D. Eisenhower and one that backed Adlai E. Stevenson by slim margins in 1952 will be watched closely when the votes are counted tonight.

Between them they have 167 electoral votes. In only two of the states, Florida and Virginia, was the winning margin more than 10 percent of the total vote. Eisenhower won Florida's 10 electoral votes by 99,000 and Virginia's 12 by 80,000.

Eisenhower's victory margin was less than 10 percent in the other 8 states: Missouri, 13 votes, 30,000; Oklahoma, 8 votes, 87,000; Pennsylvania, 32 votes, 270,000; Rhode Island, 4 votes, 8,000; Illinois, 27 votes, 443,000; Massachusetts, 16 votes, 166,000; Tennessee, 11 votes, 2,000; Texas, 24 votes, 134,000. He lost Kentucky's 10 votes by 700.

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—The nation's first three communities to report results in the 1956 election today gave President Eisenhower a lead of 25-5 over Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

The three towns, all in New Hampshire, opened and closed their polls within minutes after midnight under a state law which permits local officials to count ballots as soon as every eligible voter is checked off.

Hart's Location gave Stevenson a 5-3 edge over Eisenhower. It voted 5-4 for Eisenhower over Stevenson in 1952.

Waterville gave the President a 13-0 sweep while Ellsworth gave all its nine votes to Eisenhower. They were also unanimous for Eisenhower in 1952.

Thunder of Guns May Affect Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sixty-one million or more American voters were choosing a president today amid signs that the thunder of guns in Egypt and Hungary might be more compelling in their choice than the fading campaign oratory.

The signs generally pointed to the re-election of Dwight D. Eisenhower for a second term over his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson. Democrats were hoping for a repeat of their 1948 surprise victory.

There were some advance signals that the voters might decide on at least two more years of two-party government, with the Democrats retaining control of one or both houses of Congress.

Despite fair weather forecasts for most sections of the nation, the total vote was not expected to reach the 61,550,918 record set in 1952 when Eisenhower swept to a 442-89 electoral vote victory over Stevenson. The winner needs 266 electoral votes.

The impact of international developments seemed to be overshadowing to some extent the campaign arguments.

REPUBLICANS contended Eisenhower's attempts to bring peace in Egypt and Hungary, initially unsuccessful though they were, strengthened his position as one who could keep America from involvement in war.

12 Escape From Guards At Mansfield

MANSFIELD (AP)—Authorities searched throughout Ohio today for 12 men who escaped Monday night from Mansfield Reformatory and one of its honor camps.

Arthur L. Glatke, reformatory superintendent, said the escape was the biggest there in 10 years. He said 10 inmates at Mansfield apparently cut their way through a wire fence around a dormitory they occupied outside the main walls.

Two men had escaped a few hours earlier from the reformatory's honor camp at Sandusky. They were identified as Eugene Corrao, 27, of Cleveland, and Samuel Finch, 19, of Toledo.

The 10 who escaped at Mansfield were identified as James Kennedy, 19, sentenced from Erie County; Billy Willis, 19, sentenced from Tuscarawas County; George Castle, 18, Grove City; Edward Speakman, 19, Chillicothe; Gerald Klamm, 21, Cuyahoga County; William Cowell, 23, of East Liverpool; Edward Worrells, 19 (no address available); Richard McFadden, 17, Akron; Dean Goetz, 17, of Portsmouth, and Paul Shope, Lucasville.

The escape at Mansfield was discovered when boys from an "honor" dormitory were assembled for a regular check.

Glatke said he would not describe any of the escapees as "dangerous." He said the dormitory in which they lived furnished most of the "honor pool."

Fayette Voting May Set Record

Heavy Balloting In Most Precincts

If voting continues through the day at the pace set Tuesday morning, there is more than an outside chance that the heaviest vote in the history of Fayette County will be cast.

A spot check at noon throughout the city brought comments from precinct officials that ran all the way from "nearly double" and "very heavy" to "about the same as four years ago."

Precinct B of the Fourth Ward appeared to be having the biggest rush of voters. At 11:15 a. m., 112 votes had been cast there. One precinct official said "this is almost double" the normal vote.

In another precinct in the East-side school district, Fourth Ward E, the 113 votes cast by noon was described as "very heavy."

At Precinct B of the Third Ward (Sunnyside), 205 votes had been cast by 11:45 a. m. This also was described as "very heavy... more than at the same time four years ago."

WITH 85 VOTES cast by noon at Precinct B of the First Ward (Please turn to page two)

Record-Herald Will Compile Voting Figures

Returns from today's election will be gathered at the Record-Herald office as in previous years.

The same staff of volunteer helpers will help with the tabulation in the office while regular staff members keep in contact with the Board of Elections.

Because there is only one contest for a county office, efforts will be concentrated on getting first the returns on the school bond issues, city school levy and the election of president, senator, representative to Congress and state officers.

Cumulative totals will be kept on the returns as fast as they come in from the voting precincts to the Board of Elections and are relayed to the Record-Herald office.

No extra edition is planned for Wednesday morning, and there will be no public address system announcements. However, feel free to telephone the Record-Herald (35291, 9701 or 2593) at any time for returns.

Allies Demand Suez Canal Be Policed

Truce Deadline Set For 7 Tonight EST, U. N. Secretary Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced today that Britain and France had agreed to a cease-fire effective at 7 o'clock (EST) tonight.

Hammarskjold read a letter from the British delegation, saying Britain accepted the cease-fire on condition that Egypt and Israel do also. He said France also had agreed. Egypt and Israel previously had accepted the cease-fire.

Britain and France made their acceptance conditional on the creation of a police force to move into the fighting zone and attain the objectives sought by Britain and France. These have been announced as separating the Israeli and Egyptian forces and securing the Suez Canal to free passage.

Hammarskjold announced he was able to give assurance on that point; that the U. N. Middle East police force will be able to step into the area and take over the task of restoring calm.

BRITAIN SAID that one urgent task was to clear the canal of obstructions which had blocked it during the fighting. Britain said that the expeditionary force has the proper technicians with it and suggested these technicians could go to work, once the fighting had stopped, to clear the canal.

Hammarskjold said that was agreeable pending later confirmation by the Assembly.

The dramatic development came as a new tension enveloped high government levels as the fear of World War III appeared on the increase.

This was the scene:

1. The Swiss government today invited the Big Four powers and India to hold an immediate summit conference in Switzerland to meet the danger of another global conflict.

2. The British government is taking "very seriously" Russia's warning to Britain and France to end the fighting in Egypt.

3. But British ground units continued to pour ashore on a widening Suez beachhead in defiance of the Soviet demand.

4. Troops from other Arab nations are reported massing in Jordan, reportedly ready to come to the aid of Egypt.

In telegrams to the government heads of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India, the Swiss government offered its assistance in organizing a conference similar to the Big Four summit conference at Geneva in July 1955.

THIS TIME India was included as representative of the Asian and African nations which met at the Bandung conference.

The telegrams declared: "The danger of a third world war with all its tragic consequences is (Please Turn to Page Ten)

CHARDON (AP)—Cases of 21 persons picked up last month in a gambling raid at a hotel in Bainbridge Twp. have been continued until Nov. 15 after the 21 pleaded innocent Monday to charges of promoting a scheme of chance.

Common Pleas Judge Harold J. Richmond set bond for two Cleveland men, Edward Koeling and Thomas Turk, described as previous offenders, at $2,000 and continued bond for the others at $500.

Officers who made the raid said they broke up a betting operation which involved $40,000 a day.

One of the principal races that helped pull Ohio voters to the polls was the bid of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to unseat U. S.

Stevenson Urges President Find New Accord with Allies

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson urged President Eisenhower today to seek a new understanding with Great Britain and France "before Communist Russia can further exploit the present breakdown of relations between the democratic powers."

He did so in a statement issued shortly after his return home to vote in an election in which he has pursued the foreign policy issue almost up to the hour of voting. He suggested Eisenhower negotiate at once with Britain and France to:

1. "Restore peace in the Middle East, and save it from further Communist penetration.
2. "Discourage Russia from further aggressions in Eastern Europe, especially in Poland.
3. "Head off potential trouble in the Far East."

The crisis is getting worse, Stevenson said, adding that the "collapse" of the alliance with Britain and France has "encouraged the Red Army to march back into Hungary and crush its fight for freedom."

"If this fatal division in the West continues it will invite further Soviet troublemaking elsewhere, in Poland and Formosa, for example."

In Washington, Eisenhower delayed his voting trip to Pennsylvania 40 minutes past schedule today and was reported to have used the time for conferences on the boiling international situation.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had scheduled a start at 8:30 a. m. EST by automobile, but did not get underway until just after 9:10.

He went to his office and was reported to have met there with Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency. There was no word from the White House on the nature of the talks.

Dog Aids Injured Harvest Hand

Former Milledgeville Man Loses Leg in Tractor Shaft

Harry McNutt, 64, who moved from Milledgeville to the New Vienna community several weeks ago, lost his left leg at the hip Monday evening when he became entangled in a tractor shaft while helping fill a corn crib.

The accident occurred at 4 p. m. when McNutt, who was assisting with harvest work on the Burch Laymon farm, near New Vienna, took a wagon load of corn to one of the cribs.

Cold Air Mass Moves Eastward

CHICAGO (AP) — Cold air was moving eastward across the upper and middle Mississippi Valley today, bringing thunderstorms to eastern Missouri, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Rainfall in St. Louis and Wausau, Wis., measured nearly 1½ inches and more than a inch fell in Peoria, Ill.

Some snow was reported in North Dakota, with Minot reporting 3 inches on the ground.

The eastward movement of the cold air dropped temperatures from 10 to 18 degrees in the upper Mississippi Valley.

As he was elevating the grain into the storage area his leg became caught in the shaft running from a tractor power take-off to the elevator. His leg was severed below the knee and so severely mangled above the knee that complete amputation was necessary in Clinton Memorial Hospital where his condition was described as critical Tuesday noon.

McNutt, who did not lose consciousness, said the Laymon's dog helped him drag himself from the revolving shaft, and McNutt's cries and the dog's barking brought the farm owner to the injured man's assistance.

McNutt, his wife and children had been living in a trailer near the Laymon farm.

First 3 Towns Give Lead to Ike

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP) — The nation's first three communities to report results in the 1956 election today gave President Eisenhower a lead of 25-5 over Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

The three towns, all in New Hampshire, opened and closed their polls within minutes after midnight under a state law which permits local officials to count ballots as soon as every eligible voter is checked off.

Hart's Location gave Stevenson a 5-3 edge over Eisenhower. It voted 5-4 for Eisenhower over Stevenson in 1952.

Waterville gave the President a 13-0 sweep while Ellsworth gave all its nine votes to Eisenhower. They were also unanimous for Eisenhower in 1952.

Liner Stockholm Makes Trial Run

6 Countries Offer Troops For U. N. Force

International Group Slated To Police Egypt After Truce Obtained

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced today that six countries had offered troops for an international police force to watch over a cease-fire in Egypt. The six are Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Pakistan, Norway and Sweden.

In a report to the General Assembly, Hammarskjold added other countries were considering participation and he believed "it should be possible to meet quickly at least the most basic need for personnel."

He estimated this at "a few units of the 'big power' members of the Security Council, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Nationalist China, are barred from the force."

Hammarskjold reported as the Assembly got set for a new Russian move on the Middle East fighting following Security Council refusal to support Moscow's proposal that the United States join the Soviet in aiding Egypt against Britain, France and Israel.

THE SECURITY Council voted 4-3 not to put the Soviet proposal on its agenda. This prevented any subsequent debate or vote on the proposal itself. Iran, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia were for taking up the subject. Australia, Britain, France and the United States voted against it. Belgium, Nationalist China, Cuba and Peru abstained.

The United States rejected the Russian proposal as "unthinkable." Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the council it "would convert Egypt into a still larger battlefield."

Hammarskjold is rounding up the prospective force under a resolution the Assembly passed Sunday in emergency special session on the crisis in the Middle East. (Please turn to page two)

Here Are States To Watch when Votes Are Counted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ten of the states that supported Dwight D. Eisenhower and one that backed Adlai E. Stevenson by slim margins in 1952 will be watched closely when the votes are counted tonight.

Between them they have 167 electoral votes.

In only two of the states, Florida and Virginia, was the winning margin more than 10 per cent of the total vote. Eisenhower won Florida's 10 electoral votes by 99,000 and Virginia's 12 by 80,000.

Eisenhower's victory margin was less than 10 per cent in the other 8 states: Missouri, 13 votes, 30,000; Oklahoma, 8 votes, 87,000; Pennsylvania, 32 votes, 270,000; Rhode Island, 4 votes, 8,000; Illinois, 27 votes, 443,000; Massachusetts, 16 votes, 165,000; Tennessee, 11 votes, 2,000; Texas, 24 votes, 134,000. He lost Kentucky's 10 votes by 700.

State Auditor Praises City School Board's 'Capable' Handling of District's Affairs

A letter of "congratulations on the manner in which you and your associates are conducting the affairs of the Washington C. H. City School District," was received late Monday from James A. Rhodes, auditor of state, by Robert H. Terhune, president of the Washington C. H. Board of Education.

The letter, Rhodes said, was based on a state examiner's report of the city schools, which he said he had read.

Special commendation was given Fred Rost, the board's clerk-treasurer, by the state auditor who wrote that the school district is "fortunate to have its school affairs in the dependable hands of you, your board and Mr. Fred Rost."

The examiners completed their

Thunder of Guns May Affect Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sixty-one million or more American voters were choosing a president today amid signs that the thunder of guns in Egypt and Hungary might be more compelling in their choice than the fading campaign oratory.

The signs generally pointed to the re-election of Dwight D. Eisenhower for a second term over his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson. Democrats were hoping for a repeat of their 1948 surprise victory.

There were some advance signals that the voters might decide on at least two more years of two-party government, with the Democrats retaining control of one or both houses of Congress.

Despite fair weather forecasts for most sections of the nation, the total vote was not expected to reach the 61,550,918 record set in 1952 when Eisenhower swept to a 442-89 electoral vote victory over Stevenson. The winner needs 266 electoral votes.

The impact of international developments seemed to be overshadowing to some extent the campaign arguments.

REPUBLICANS contended Eisenhower's attempts to bring peace in Egypt and Hungary, initially unsuccessful though they were, strengthened his position as one who could keep America from involvement in war.

Democrats said events had substantiated Stevenson's charges (Please Turn to Page Three)

Fayette Voting May Set Record

Heavy Balloting In Most Precincts

If voting continues through the day at the pace set Tuesday morning, there is more than an outside chance that the heaviest vote in the history of Fayette County will be cast.

A spot check at noon throughout the city brought comments from precinct officials that ran all the way from "nearly double" and "very heavy" to "about the same as four years ago."

Precinct B of the Fourth Ward appeared to be having the biggest rush of voters. At 11:15 a. m., 112 votes had been cast there. One precinct official said "this is almost double" the normal vote.

In another precinct in the East-side school district, Fourth Ward E, the 113 votes cast by noon was described as "very heavy."

At Precinct B of the Third Ward (Sunnyside), 205 votes had been cast by 11:45 a. m. This also was described as "very heavy... more than at the same time four years ago."

WITH 85 VOTES cast by noon at Precinct B of the First Ward (Please turn to page two)

Record-Herald Will Compile Voting Figures

Returns from today's election will be gathered at the Record-Herald office as in previous years.

The same staff of volunteer helpers will help with the tabulation in the office while regular staff members keep in contact with the Board of Elections.

Because there is only one contest for a county office, efforts will be concentrated on getting first the returns on the school bond issues, city school levy and the election of president, senator, representative to Congress and state officers.

Cumulative totals will be kept on the returns as fast as they come in from the voting precincts to the Board of Elections and are relayed to the Record-Herald office.

No extra edition is planned for Wednesday morning and there will be no public address system announcements. However, feel free to telephone the Record-Herald (35291, 9701 or 2593) at any time for returns.

Allies Demand Suez Canal Be Policed

Truce Deadline Set For 7 Tonight EST, U. N. Secretary Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced today that Britain and France had agreed to a cease-fire effective at 7 o'clock (EST) tonight.

Hammarskjold read a letter from the British delegation, saying Britain accepted the cease-fire on condition that Egypt and Israel do also. He said France also had agreed. Egypt and Israel previously had accepted the cease-fire.

Britain and France made their acceptance conditional on the creation of a police force to move into the fighting zone and attain the objectives sought by Britain and France. These have been announced as separating the Israeli and Egyptian forces and securing the Suez Canal to free passage.

Hammarskjold announced he was able to give assurance on that point; that the U. N. Middle East police force will be able to step into the area and take over the task of restoring calm.

BRITAIN SAID that one urgent task was to clear the canal of obstructions which had blocked it during the fighting. Britain said that the expeditionary force has the proper technicians with it and suggested these technicians could go to work, once the fighting had stopped, to clear the canal.

Hammarskjold said that was agreeable pending later confirmation by the Assembly.

The dramatic development came as a new tenseness enveloped high government levels as the fear of World War III appeared on the increase.

This was the scene:

1. The Swiss government today invited the Big Four powers and India to hold an immediate summit conference in Switzerland to meet the danger of another global conflict.

2. The British government is taking "very seriously" Russia's warning to Britain and France to end the fighting in Egypt.

3. But British ground units continued to pour ashore on a widening Suez beachhead in defiance of the Soviet demand.

4. Troops from other Arab nations are reported massing in Jordan, reportedly ready to come to the aid of Egypt.

In telegrams to the government heads of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and India, the Swiss government offered its assistance in organizing a conference similar to the Big Four summit conference at Geneva in July 1955.

THIS TIME India was included as representative of the Asian and African nations which met at the Bandung conference.

The telegrams declared: "The danger of a third world war with all its tragic consequences is (Please Turn to Page Ten)

CLEVELAND (AP) — The local unit of the American Newspaper Guild, a union for news reporters, Monday started publishing its own newspaper, the Cleveland Reporter.

Jews-hungry Clevelanders soon bought up the supply. At one newsstand on Public Square some men engaged in fistfights as they scrambled to get copies of the paper. The Guild plans to publish the newspaper for the duration of its strike which has closed all three Cleveland daily newspapers.

CHARDON (AP) — Cases of 21 persons picked up last month in a gambling raid at a motel in Bainbridge Twp. have been continued until Nov. 15 after the 21 pleaded innocent Monday to charges of promoting a scheme of chance.

Common Pleas Judge Harold J. Richmond set bond for two Cleveland men, Edward Koeling and Thomas Turk, described as previous offenders, at $2,000 and continued bond for the others at $500.

Officers who made the raid said they broke up a betting operation which involved $40,000 a day.

'Delinquent Child' Is Teachers' Topic

A guest panel discussion on the problem of "The Delinquent Child" was the feature of the November meeting of the City Teachers Assn. held Monday afternoon in the Little Theater at Washington High School.

Stanley Johnson presided over the brief business session which preceded the program, and Jack White introduced Judge Robert L. Brubaker of Probate and Juvenile Court, Assistant County Extension Agent Phil Grover and the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, who formed the panel.

JUDGE BRUBAKER opened his remarks by saying that, although the delinquency problem in Fayette County is not as acute as that in large cities, "we do have problems."

Many of the court problems are those with which the school has been unable to deal, he said, pointing out that the child in trouble is often the one who has dropped out of school because of his inability to keep up with his school work.

He has a lot of time on his hands and with little or no parental supervision at home, as a result gets into trouble, Judge Brubaker observed. "Lack of proper supervision, the poor attitude of and example on the part of the parents are major factors contributing to the delinquency of a child."

In his suggestions as to what should be done, Judge Brubaker said first that special education classes in the school would help, for the relationship to the slow learner and the child who gets into trouble is noticeable. Second, youth activity groups are important. Finally, Judge Brubaker mentioned the need of Fayette County for a probation officer.

GROVER mentioned that youth has three basic needs. First, he has (northeast section), workers at the polls said the vote was heavy and expressed the belief that it would be a record by the end of the day.

The vote in Precinct B of the second ward (Market and Hinde Sts.) added up to 103 at 1 p. m. One of the officials there said this was "about the same" as four years ago.

Checking the polling places throughout the county was complicated by their location in public buildings, such as township halls, which have no telephones.

However, members of the Board of Elections, all gathered in the office in the Courthouse, said reports coming to them during the morning indicate a record vote is in prospect, even more than the previous all-time high turnout in 1952.

Without exception, long-time political observers and election officials credited the bitter fight over the Miami Trace school bond issue proposal with bringing out the voters in flocks.

Jefferson Heads Insurance Assn.

Group Backs Youth Safety Conference

Robert Jefferson of Bloomingburg is the new president of the Fayette County Insurance Association.

He was elected at the association's regular monthly meeting, Monday noon at Jeffersonville. Leonard Korn was named vice president; Paul Mohr secretary and Max Morrow, of Jeffersonville, treasurer.

Paul Pennington, the outgoing president, conducted the meeting. The association voted to support the Youth Safety Conference, to be held in Columbus Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, by paying the expenses of two representatives of the driver training courses in the Washington C. H. and Jeffersonville high schools. These are the only high schools in the county offering the course.

Washington C. H. school officials accepted the association's invitation to participate and named two girls, Susan Dray, a senior, and Roberta Jo Rose, a junior, as the school's delegates to the conference.

A SPOKESMAN for the association said Jeffersonville school officials had expressed interest and probably would participate, but that no delegates had been named.

Arthur Engle is the instructor for the course at Washington C. H. High School and Joseph Rush at Jeffersonville.

The conference, the first of its kind, is sponsored by the Ohio Driver Education Assn., with the endorsement of the State Department of Education, State Department of Highway Safety and the Ohio Education Assn.

The theme of the conference, to be held at the Veterans Memorial Building, is: "Youth Looks to a Safer Tomorrow."

The instructors are having a meeting at the same time and both Engle and Rush are expected to attend.

Mrs. Hannah Haaga Dies Monday Night

Mrs. Hannah Haaga, a resident of Jeffersonville for 39 years, died in her home Monday night. She was 88.

Mrs. Haaga had been in failing health for two months.

Survivors are three sons, William, of Urbana, Wayne of Jeffersonville, and Fred, of Springfield; and two daughters, Mrs. Rosa Williams of Williamsport and Mrs. Jessie Dill, near Jeffersonville. Mrs. Haaga also leaves 15 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Sarah M. Houseman, preceded her in death.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Morrow Funeral Home, Jeffersonville. The Rev. Clarence R. Williamson, of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, will be in charge.

Burial will be in Bainbridge Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Morrow Funeral Home after 8 p. m. Tuesday.

military operations of Israel, Britain, and France against Egypt.

The Assembly asked him to submit a plan in 48 hours for a U. N. force "to secure and supervise the cessation of hostilities."

Hammarskjold said the job of the force should be "when a cease-fire is being established, to enter Egyptian territory with the consent of the Egyptian government, in order to help maintain quiet during and after the withdrawal of non-Egyptian troops."

He said the force presumably would range over the area from the Suez Canal to the Egypt-Israel armistice demarcation line.

ISRAEL HAS said she considers the armistice no longer in force and has given no indication she will get out of the Sinai Peninsula which she has occupied.

Egypt agreed Monday to accept a U. N. force. Hammarskjold indicated he did not consider the consent of Britain, France and Israel necessary for sending the force to Egypt. Britain has said it will turn control over the Suez Canal over to the police group once it is ready.

Hammarskjold said the force should not be called on to "enforce" a withdrawal of the non-Egyptian forces. Instead, he declared, its military functions should not exceed "those necessary to secure peaceful conditions" once all parties had agreed to cease-fire and withdraw.

Court Blocks Phone Hearing Before PUCO

COLUMBUS (U. S. —) A hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to determine whether the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. should provide emergency service at three of its exchanges was blocked today by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Judge James F. Bell signed an order which prevents a hearing scheduled for Wednesday in the commission offices here.

The company had been ordered to show why it should not be required to provide emergency service at Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville.

Today's writ by the high court directs the commission to appear before the court Nov. 17 if it wishes to challenge the restriction.

In appealing for court action to halt the hearing, attorneys for the company challenged the commission on five points:

1. That only five days notice before the court Nov. 17 if it wishes "law."

2. That the commission has no jurisdiction to require the company to provide service in Scioto County "at a time when absence and failure of law enforcement exists to such a degree that operating personnel can only enter the territory with extreme risk to life and limb."

3. That the commission has no jurisdiction during the strike to interfere with the company's right to bargain collectively.

4. That the commission should

Second, youth activity groups are important. Finally, Judge Brubaker mentioned the need of Fayette County for a probation officer.

GROVER mentioned that youth has three basic needs. First, he has a need for a sense of security that comes from belonging to a group such as a family, school, church or organization; second, a need for love and affection; and third, a need for the satisfaction of achievement.

Grover said that teachers are in the position to help meet his need of the child. Youth organizations help the child meet his need for belonging and achievement. The main problem of the youth organizations is to reach all the children who would benefit from belonging to such a group, Grover concluded.

FATHER CONNELLY also stressed the fact that a child needs the love and affection of a father and mother, and that children in trouble often lack that affection.

He said that during his work at the Boys Industrial School he had been impressed by two facts: that boys in correction schools are not spiritually minded and do not know one religion from another; and that neither are the boys good athletes for they are individualists who do not understand the principles of teamwork.

Father Connelly said that society has a very important part in the rehabilitation of a boy released from any school of correction. The boy, he declared, must be given a chance to prove that he can do better; otherwise he will return to crime.

A question and answer period followed the discussion by the guest speakers.

Washington C. H. school officials accepted the association's invitation to participate and named two girls, Susan Dray, a senior, and Roberta Jo Rose, a junior, as the school's delegates to the conference.

A SPOKESMAN for the association said Jeffersonville school officials had expressed interest and probably would participate, but that no delegates had been named.

Arthur Engle is the instructor for the course at Washington C. H. High School and Joseph Rush at Jeffersonville.

The conference, the first of its kind, is sponsored by the Ohio Driver Education Assn., with the endorsement of the State Department of Education, State Department of Highway Safety and the Ohio Education Assn.

The theme of the conference, to be held at the Veterans Memorial Building, is: "Youth Looks to a Safer Tomorrow."

The instructors are having a meeting at the same time and both Engle and Rush are expected to attend.

Mrs. Hannah Haaga Dies Monday Night

Mrs. Hannah Haaga, a resident of Jeffersonville for 39 years, died in her home Monday night. She was 88.

Mrs. Haaga had been in failing health for two months.

Survivors are three sons, William, of Urbana, Wayne of Jeffersonville, and Fred, of Springfield; and two daughters, Mrs. Rosa Williams of Williamsport and Mrs. Jessie Dill, near Jeffersonville. Mrs. Haaga also leaves 15 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Sarah M. Houseman, preceded her in death. Services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Morrow Funeral Home, Jeffersonville. The Rev. Clarence R. Williamson, of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, will be in charge.

Burial will be in Bainbridge Cemetery. Friends may call at the Morrow Funeral Home after 8 p. m. Tuesday.

military operations of Israel, Britain, and France against Egypt.

The Assembly asked him to submit a plan in 48 hours for a U. N. force "to secure and supervise the cessation of hostilities."

Hammarskjold said the job of the force should be "when a ceasefire is being established, to enter Egyptian territory with the consent of the Egyptian government, in order to help maintain quiet during and after the withdrawal of non-Egyptian troops."

He said the force presumably could range over the area from the Suez Canal to the Egypt-Israel armistice demarcation line.

ISRAEL HAS said she considers the armistice no longer in force and has given no indication she will get out of the Sinai Peninsula which she has occupied.

Egypt agreed Monday to accept a U. N. force. Hammarskjold indicated he did not consider the consent of Britain, France and Israel necessary for sending the force to Egypt. Britain has said it will turn control over the Suez Canal over to the police group once it is ready.

Hammarskjold said the force should not be called on to "enforce" a withdrawal of the non-Egyptian forces. Instead, he declared, its military functions should not exceed "those necessary to secure peaceful conditions" once all parties had agreed to ceasefire and withdraw.

Hunter Fined On 2 Charges

Driver Fined, Jailed For Leaving Accident

Variety marked Tuesday morning's session of Municipal Court here when one man was fined $100 and costs and another $25 and costs on each of two charges on their pleas of guilty.

Joseph F. Williams, picked up by the state Highway Patrol and charged with leaving the scene of an accident on Route 22 Nov. 3 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail. (His address was not given).

Tiffin Houseman was fined $25 and costs for having a pheasant in his possession during the closed season and another $25 and costs on a charge of hunting during the closed season. He was picked up on the Fent Road Nov. 3 by Dave Krupla, the county's game protector.

Of the other five cases to come before the court, two were dismissed on pleas of not guilty.

A charge of assault filed against Albert Mathews Oct. 27 by Homer Williams was dismissed and a charge of trespassing filed against Leo Morris by Henry Mongold also was dismissed.

THE OTHER three cases were for traffic violations.

Gene Kenneth Bond, 23, Hickory Lane, drew $5 and costs for 45 mph on N. North St.

Richard M. Gay, cited by the state Highway Patrol, was fined $10 and costs for passing another vehicle on the crest of a hill.

William Albert Haines, 50, of 742 Washington Ave., forfeited $20 bond for 46 mph on N. North St.

Court Blocks Phone Hearing Before PUCO

COLUMBUS (AP)—A hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to determine whether the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. should provide emergency service at three of its exchanges was blocked today by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Judge James F. Bell signed an order which prevents a hearing scheduled for Wednesday in the commission offices here.

The company had been ordered to show why it should not be required to provide emergency service at Portsmouth, New Boston and Sciotoville.

Today's writ by the high court directs the commission to appear before the court Nov. 17 if it wishes to challenge the restriction.

In appealing for court action to halt the hearing, attorneys for the company challenged the commission on five points:

1. That only five days notice before the court Nov. 17 if it wishes "law".

2. That the commission has no jurisdiction to require the company to provide service in Scioto County "at a time when absence and failure of law enforcement exists to such a degree that operating personnel can only enter the territory with extreme risk to life and limb."

3. That the commission has no jurisdiction during the strike to interfere with the company's right to bargain collectively.

(northeast section), workers at the polls said the vote was heavy and expressed the belief that it would be a record by the end of the day.

The vote in Precinct B of the second ward (Market and Hinde Sts.) added up to 103 at 1 p. m. One of the officials there said this was "about the same" as four years ago.

Checking the polling places throughout the county was complicated by their location in public buildings, such as township halls, which have no telephones.

However, members of the Board of Elections, all gathered in the office in the Courthouse, said reports coming to them during the morning indicate a record vote is in prospect, even more than the previous all-time high turnout in 1952.

Without exception, long-time political observers and election officials credited the bitter fight over the Miami Trace school bond issue proposal with bringing out the voters in flocks.

Portsmouth Council Sends Anti-Phone Petition to PUCO

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (U-P) — Petitions bearing 20,000 signatures and aimed at revoking the Portsmouth franchise of the struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were on their way to the state utilities commission today.

Portsmouth City Council passed a resolution Monday night to forward the petitions to the commission. Mayor J. Harold Frecka made it clear that councilmen would not take sides in the issue.

"The petitions never should have been presented to the council," Frecka said. "This is a matter for the utilities commission."

The petitions, circulated since Oct. 15, cite "high rates" and "poor service" as a basis for the franchise revocation proposal.

The Communications Workers of America (CWA) has been striking against the company since July 15. Portsmouth, a city of 40,000, has been without telephone service since Oct. 15.

Meanwhile, Gov. Frank J. Lausche's office announced postponement of a special session of the Legislature until at least Nov. 14. The session was called to consider special legislation banning utility strikes and compelling arbitration of grievances.

Ray White, the governor's secretary, said the special session was postponed so redecoration of the Ohio Senate chamber could be completed. He said the extra time also will give Lausche a chance to discuss the proposed legislation with General Assembly leaders.

Robert Moulton, utilities commission chairman, and several attorneys are "researching to see what approach could be taken to the problem in Ohio," White said.

The governor called the session last week after the company refused to restore service in Scioto County.

Federal mediation in the strike, now in its 115th day, was scheduled to resume in Columbus at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Negotiation talks in Cleveland last week were unsuccessful.

Heroic Hungary

There is a severe shortage of food, fuel, building materials, drugs, and other necessities in Budapest, and the Kadar regime broadcast an appeal to the "friendly, socialist, Communist countries" to send in stores.

A conviction was growing here that Imre Nagy, ousted by the Russians at bayonet point from the premiership of the revolutionary government, has been liquidated.

The impression here was that, one way or another, Kadar could not last long as premier. He is premier only because of Soviet bayonets. But even if the situation were calmed down in Budapest, Kadar might be in danger from the Russians themselves because he has stood, however briefly, for "independent communism." The opinion here was that Kadar will live only so long as he is useful to the Soviet Union.

Stock Market Rallies Rapidly

NEW YORK (U-P) — Gains were widened by the rallying stock market Monday afternoon.

Key stocks posted gains running to around three points.

Volume was estimated at around 2,600,000 shares compared with 2,180,000 Friday.

Reports of the cease-fire in the Port Said area converted losses into wide gains in oils with heavy resources in the Middle East.

Brokers also credited the rise to confidence in Wall Street that President Eisenhower would be re-elected and to new reports of still bright prospects in the steel industry.

Thunder of Guns

(Continued from Page One) that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had "blundered" and either had kept the American people ignorant of the true state of world affairs or did not know the situation themselves.

Both candidates and their running mates, Republican Richard M. Nixon and Democrat Estes Kefauver, made final appeals on nationwide radio - television broadcasts Monday night.

Stevenson raised more directly than he had done previously the matter of Eisenhower's health. The President suffered a heart attack in September 1955 and underwent major abdominal surgery last June.

"As distasteful as this matter is," Stevenson said in a speech from Boston, "I must say bluntly that every piece of scientific evidence we have, every lesson of history and experience, indicates that a Republican victory tomorrow would mean that Richard M. Nixon would be president of this country within the next four years. I say frankly that I recoil at the prospect."

Eisenhower, in one of two election eve talks from the White House, outlined the general principles of his administration without dealing specifically with the international situation.

DECLARING that "peace must be universal" and "freedom is indivisible," he said the United States has "a very large stake in the freedom of every people."

Eisenhower said "the great objective of all true Americans remains world peace."

He said he regards the record of his administration as "a very good one," but added that "there is so much yet to be done."

Nixon said that in campaigning he had found all over the country that "people are happy because they are getting the kind of government they want." He said the voters "want a government that can keep the peace."

Kefauver said that the outstanding factor of the campaign is that "the Democratic party is more deeply concerned with what happens to us than the Republican party."

Cincy Murder Jury Ready For Testimony

CINCINNATI (U-P) — Prosecution and defense Monday quickly cleared away preliminaries in the murder trial of a former city worker in the knifing death of an attractive Hyde Park matron.

A full day of testimony is planned Wednesday in the trial of Robert V. Lyons, 43, onetime water meter reader charged with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, 34, in her home.

In opening arguments Monday, C. Watson Hoover, Hamilton County prosecutor, said the state will seek to show that a "combination of circumstances" including Lyons' worry about his job, had brought about the killing.

Lyons' attorney, William F. Hopkins, said the defense aims to show that police obtained a "false" confession from the defendant by "only using the threats to prove his guilt" and had "discarded all the threads of innocence."

Lyons was arrested more than a month after the murder was discovered last April 11.

Police said he admitted in a statement that he stabbed Mrs. Pugh to death after she censured him for seeking entrance to the house at the wrong door. But later he disavowed the statement.

Defense and prosecution agreed on two things Monday:

That Lyons was a good city worker and had never been in trouble before the murder.

That Mrs. Pugh was a decent, moral and God-fearing woman.

Polio Patient Wed to Cripple

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (U-P) — A young woman who must use a polio chest respirator 16 to 18 hours a day was married Monday to a crippled victim of industrial arsenic poisoning. Jane Smith, 26, sat in a wheel chair and Martin Mahn, 28, stood beside her on crutches as Village Court Judge Alexander Berman performed the ceremony.

Very Heavy Vote

Besides national, state, district and local contests, voters will decide two statewide issues.

One proposes a $90 million bond issue to pay bonuses up to $400 to about 280,000 Ohio veterans of the Korean War. The other would extend two-year terms of state senators to four years. Both, in the form of changes in the state constitution, require favorable majorities for passage.

About 1,600 local bond issues, levies and issues also are up for decision.

Fer to the Bender-Lausche clash appeared to lie in Cuyahoga County which embraces Cleveland, an area that accounts for nearly a fifth of Ohio's votes.

Lausche, former mayor and judge there, always has run strongly in the city's Democratic stronghold of foreign language residents. Bender, former GOP county chairman, is strong in the suburban district he represented in the U. S. House before beating Lausche's interim appointee in 1954 for the last two years of Taft's six-year Senate term.

Lausche won a record five terms as governor with acknowledged GOP help.

Predicting a Republican victory in Ohio, state Chairman Ray C. Bliss said the state would keep its 17 GOP congressional seats and pick up one or two from the Democrats.

Equally confident of a Democrat victory, party state Chairman William L. Coleman said Democrats would keep their six congressional seats and capture two or three from Republicans.

7 Chicagoans Killed in Crash on 'L'

CHICAGO (U-P) — Seven persons were killed and more than 150 injured Monday night when a jam-packed, eight-car elevated train plowed into a standing train at a North Side station.

All the dead were trapped in the wreckage of the front car of the Chicago Transit Authority elevated train. The car split down the middle as it crashed into the rear coach of a six-car Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee train.

The crash occurred at the height of the evening rush hour, about 5:30 p. m., at the Wilson Avenue elevated station. The North Shore electric train carried more than 300 passengers. The CTA coaches were heavily loaded.

Screams of panic rang through the CTA cars as lights failed after the impact. Passengers were thrown to the floors and piled atop each other.

Mrs. Margot Witcoff, a passenger, said that when the lights went out "people started yelling, pushing, and trampling over others who had fallen in the aisle."

More than a dozen people were trapped in the forward section of the first elevated car, including the motorman, Michael O'Driscoll, 52. He was the last to be removed from the wreckage, nearly five hours after the pileup.

He had been given blood plasma and hypodermic injections of morphine. Dr. J. R. Guttman said O'Driscoll told him he tried to apply the brakes as he heard the station but they failed.

7 of 80 Aboard Airliner Killed

BLACKWATER, England (U-P) — A chartered airliner bringing British wives and children home from the embattled Middle East fell into a woods early today. Seven of the 80 persons aboard were killed. About 40 others were injured.

Many leaped to safety before fire enveloped the plane. Airfield rescue teams pulled out others.

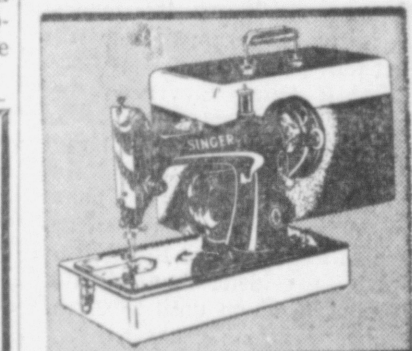

The dead were four children, the pilot, copilot and radio officer.

The four-engine plane, inbound from Tripoli, Libya, was approaching Blackbushe airport near here though a light mist. A War Office spokesman said it undershot the runway.

Cincy Murder Jury Ready For Testimony

CINCINNATI (AP)—Prosecution and defense Monday quickly cleared away preliminaries in the murder trial of a former city worker in the knifing death of an attractive Hyde Park matron.

A full day of testimony is planned Wednesday in the trial of Robert V. Lyons, 43, onetime water meter reader charged with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, 34, in her home.

In opening arguments Monday, C. Watson Hover, Hamilton County prosecutor, said the state will seek to show that a "combination of circumstances" including Lyons' worry about his job, had brought about the killing.

Lyons' attorney, William F. Hopkins, said the defense aims to show that police obtained a "false" confession from the defendant by "only using the threats to prove his guilt" and had "discarded all the threads of innocence."

Lyons was arrested more than a month after the murder was discovered last April 11.

Police said he admitted in a statement that he stabbed Mrs. Pugh to death after she censured him for seeking entrance to the house at the wrong door. But later he disavowed the statement.

Defense and prosecution agreed on two things Monday:

That Lyons was a good city worker and had never been in trouble before the murder.

That Mrs. Pugh was a decent, moral and God-fearing woman.

7 Chicagoans Killed in Crash on 'L'

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven persons were killed and more than 150 injured Monday night when a jam-packed, eight-car elevated train plowed into a standing train at a North Side station.

All the dead were trapped in the wreckage of the front car of the Chicago Transit Authority elevated train. The car split down the middle as it crashed into the rear coach of a six-car Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee train.

The crash occurred at the height of the evening rush hour, about 5:30 p. m., at the Wilson Avenue elevated station. The North Shore electric train carried more than 300 passengers. The CTA coaches were heavily loaded.

Screams of panic rang through the CTA cars as lights failed after the impact. Passengers were thrown to the floors and piled atop each other.

Mrs. Margot Witcoff, a passenger, said that when the lights went out "people started yelling, pushing, and trampling over others who had fallen in the aisle."

More than a dozen people were trapped in the forward section of the first elevated car, including the motorman, Michael O'Driscoll, 52. He was the last to be removed from the wreckage, nearly five hours after the pileup.

He had been given blood plasma and hypodermic injections of morphine. Dr. J. R. Guttman said O'Driscoll told him he tried to apply the brakes as he heard the station but they failed.

7 of 80 Aboard Airliner Killed

BLACKWATER, England (AP)—A chartered airliner bringing British wives and children home from the embattled Middle East fell into a woods early today. Seven of the 80 persons aboard were killed. About 40 others were injured.

Many leaped to safety before fire enveloped the plane. Airfield rescue teams pulled out others.

The dead were four children, the pilot, copilot and radio officer.

The four-engine plane, inbound from Tripoli, Libya, was approaching Blackbushe airport near here though a light mist. A War Office spokesman said it undershot the runway.

Manslaughter On Our Highways Too Common

It is true that nuclear bombs are potential killers. It is also true that a motor car in the hands of a careless driver is even a more dangerous killer right now.

Apparently it is going to take more than appealing words to the motoring public, to bring about the safety level among all drivers and especially those who wilfully take chances which create hazards for themselves and for others who are using extreme care in their driving.

In the present day in which traffic deaths have mounted to an alarming figure, affecting all ages and classes of people even more than war, the reading public doubtless notices that criminal negligence plays an important part and that many times charges of manslaughter are brought against offending drivers.

Going back over the record of state and nation it becomes obvious that this charge is warranted by the facts in too many cases where the offender is let off easily.

It ought to be clearly recognized that an automobile can be and often is a deadly weapon, and that whenever a driver violates good traffic practice, he is responsible if a fatal accident occurs.

The fatalistic attitude of condoning traffic deaths as more or less inevitable has certainly not had the effect of holding down the number of highway mortalities, now hovering near the 40,000 mark annually in the U. S.

This is a grim business, and it is tragic mistake to let such offenders go free or with light punishment such as a fine, when the element of criminal negligence is involved.

We have been more fortunate than the average county here in Fayette but who knows when the tide may turn against us as we do not keep up efforts to reduce all accidents to the barest minimum?

We as individuals may have a good record of our own but with increasing highway traffic and hundreds of drivers from other localities using our highways daily, we and our own families can suffer from the carelessness of non-resident drivers.

It is for that reason that concern for forcing more careful driving must be on a nationwide basis. Until that is achieved it is up to us in our own community to see that careless offenses are properly punished.

Non-Voters Squawk Loudest

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the man who didn't take the trouble to vote today will be the one who'll cry the loudest about the government for the next four years.

That if Adlai Stevenson believes history runs in cycles he might be cheered to recall that just 100 years ago James Buchanan, a Democrat and a bachelor, defeated a famous soldier, John C. Fremont, the Republican party's presidential candidate. Fremont lived on until 1890, retired as a major general.

That although women may be the deciding factor in the 1956 U. S. elections, they are even more powerful in France where there are 117 women voters for every 100 men.

That 11 per cent of the lawyers in France wear skirts. So do 23 per cent of the dentists, 28 per cent of the pharmacists, and 7 per cent of the doctors. There are 19 women deputies in the National Assembly, and nine women senators in the Council of the Republic.

That a friend of Raphael, on first seeing his renaissance masterpiece, "St. Cecilia," was so overcome by the faultless beauty of the painting he fell dead. Some people say modernistic painting slays them, too.

That road gauge of American railways is equal to the width between the wheels of ancient Rome's battle chariots—five feet, eight inches. We copied the idea from the British who, in the days when they were savages and painted themselves blue, were occupied by the Romans. This invasion enabled the Romans to keep the British Channel open for international shipping.

That two out of three first graders who have trouble learning to read have up-par vision. The American Optometric Assn. believes children shouldn't be encouraged to read until they enter school.

That Pee-wee Reese, shortstop for the Brooklyn Dodgers, got his nickname because of his skill at mables. He can still knuckle down and beat any kid in his neighborhood at the game.

That (now hear this wives) 45 per cent of American men complain the bed they sleep in isn't long enough for comfort.

That a fever of 109 degrees will kill most people, but medical analysts list one recovery from a fever that reached 113 degrees.

That Nero never fiddled while Rome burned (the violin hadn't even been invented then), but he may have been busy putting on makeup. He enjoyed wearing cosmetics.

That a million Americans now wear contact lenses.

That if you make mistakes, you aren't the only one. The nation used up two million pounds of erasers last year.

That it was Bismarck, Germany's "Iron Chancellor," who once contemptuously observed, "universal suffrage is the government of a house by its nursery."

That, if this is true, universal suffrage in the United States has proved that a house run by a bunch of smart kids will outlast one ruled by a stupid king.

Politics and Disarmament

By George Sokolsky

On Oct. 6, Konstantin Orlov, commentator in English to North America, on the Moscow radio, said:

"...Spokesmen for the Republican administration assert that they stand for disarmament, if such measures can be controlled—but why, in that case, do they spurn the Soviet Union's proposal to prohibit by agreement the testing of nuclear weapons which it is easy to keep tabs on, even now, without waiting for any elaborate system of control?"

"To check up on the fulfillment of such an agreement is a simple matter, because instruments can immediately detect any nuclear weapons tests and the whole world would at one point its finger at the transgressor. Obviously it is not the absence of control that is keeping the problem unsolved, but the absence of desire."

This same argument is being used by Thomas K. Finletter and Adlai Stevenson. The idea is that as the Russians refuse to agree to a universal treaty for inspection and control, why not agree to stop testing the H-bomb anyhow? The Russians have rejected international inspection and control since 1946 when the Baruch plan was introduced.

What guarantee is there that every test can be discovered? It can be said that up to now, the United States has succeeded in discovering some Russian explosions, perhaps all of them, but nobody can be sure that we discovered all of them. Nobody knows. Without inspection, nobody can know.

Adlai Stevenson says in his campaign speeches that he supports the proposal to ban atomic tests and argues that new ideas, which the Republicans do not have, are needed to find a solution to the disarmament problem.

"That, of course, is true—especially when we speak of ideas that could help reach agreement, for we all know how things have been so far with the representatives of the Republicans. Every time the Soviet Union agreed with American proposals, the U. S. representative promptly retracted and offered something else. Under such circumstances, it is indeed hard to find a way to disarmament, but what I would like to know is: what prevented the Democrats from suggesting new ideas heretofore, particularly with regard to disarmament?"

Actually the Baruch proposal was made when the Democratic Harry Truman was president. At that time, there was another proposal, called the Acheson-Lilienthal plan. The Russians gave no indication of wanting to accept that. In fact, there is nothing in the record to show that the Russians ever accepted any American proposal to limit or outlaw the atomic bomb; the fact being that the Americans insisted upon inspection and control which the Russians regularly rejected.

What have the Russians to say about the conference at the summit at Geneva where Bulganin and Khrushchev met with Eisenhower and Eden? A proposal was made then which could have outlawed the bomb. What became of that? What have the Russians done about the "open sky" proposal?

Orlov does not have much to say in favor of the Democrats. This is his comment:

"The leaders of the Democratic party, judging from their statements, are disclaiming Washington's policies, but what are they offering instead? Nothing special as far as I can see. They seem to actually favor the same course of conduct, because none of the Democratic leaders who are leveling criticism at the Republicans are inclined to condemn the mailed fist policy or the arms drive."

This is one point of view. On the same Oct. 6, Alexeyev, another Soviet commentator, speaking in Japanese, said:

"A majority of people have often been puzzled by the American attitude toward disarmament and a ban of nuclear weapons tests. American officials have offered a great number of proposals and schemes on these issues. The proposals and schemes, however, have been changed so often that the people, ignorant of the reasons for the changes, have often been puzzled."

"They may have the impression that America is searching for the best way to achieve disarmament. In fact, however, America has made no practical proposal, nor has it accepted any proposals during 11 years of discussion on disarmament in both general and nuclear weapons. This fact gives us the contrary impression—that America has no interest in disarmament."

Bernard Baruch will be interested in knowing that his proposal to outlaw the A-bomb is not even in the record. Baruch took his work in this connection very seriously.

Hip Joint Affliction Common in Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Few of you probably have ever heard of transient synovitis. Yet, this condition is one of the most common hip joint afflictions among children between the ages of 3 and 10.

Sometimes it's called transitory arthritis, coxitis or observation hip; but they are all the same thing.

Boys seem to fall victim to this disease more readily than do girls. In either case, recovery seldom takes longer than two weeks.

Factors in development of transient synovitis may be an injury, allergy or upper respiratory infection. Generally, the ailment begins abruptly with a pain in the hip, knee or thigh. The suffering youngster will begin limping, too.

There are no broken bones and usually no bony changes of any kind are noticeable. X-ray may uncover minor changes in soft tissues in the area.

Two Diseases

Your doctor, of course, is the only one who should diagnose the trouble. And prompt diagnosis is highly important since early treatment is especially valuable in combating the two diseases most similar to transient synovitis—tuberculosis and Legg-Perthes disease.

Generally, strict rest in bed is advisable. Usually that's about all the treatment needed, although, in some cases, doctors might recommend use of traction.

Local Applications

Your doctor also might prescribe local applications of heat to combat discomfort, muscle spasm and definite limitation of hip movement.

If treatment is begun promptly, your youngster probably will be up and around in from a week to ten days.

But let me caution you again to consult your doctor as soon as you spot something wrong. Your child is the most important thing in your life. Take good care of him.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

S. J.: What causes a drooping of the bladder in women?

Answer: The most common cause, of course, is childbirth. During childbirth, the muscles that hold the bladder up may become weakened. This can usually be corrected by surgery.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians are either bluffing or moving the world close to war. They may be bluffing to divert attention from the barbarism of their attacks on Hungary.

Their language was not precise, but they seemed to have warned the British and French Monday to get out of Egypt, which those two American allies attacked last week.

The White House issued a statement which in turn seemed to warn the Russians not to attack the French and British. But the White House statement wasn't precise either.

Three things make the Russian warning to the British and French like a bluff:

1. They made it just after their own troops opened fire on the Hungarians for revolting against their Communist masters.

2. They proposed the United States join Russia in attacking the American allies in Egypt. If the United States did that, it would have no big allies and Russia would dominate the world. As could be expected, the White House said this was "unthinkable."

3. The Russians made their proposal in a way they knew couldn't work. They said the United States and Russia should act together, "backed by the United Nations," and they took their proposal to the U.N. Security Council. They knew before hand it would be vetoed there, if not by the United States, then by Britain and France. The council wouldn't even consider it Monday night.

The White House statement was issued Monday night through press secretary James C. Hagerty, but not signed by President Eisenhower.

It said in part: "The introduction of new forces (into Egypt) would violate the U. N. Charter and it would be the duty of all United Nations members, including the United States, to oppose any such effort."

What wasn't clear in this statement was the use of the word "oppose." How would the United States "oppose" a Russian attack on the French and British? By attacking Russia or by making a speech in the U. N.? Eisenhower promised American forces would not be used in "these present hostilities" in Egypt.

The Russians have wanted to dominate the Middle East. They were making progress. But then they horrified Asians and Africans whom they most wanted to impress through their attack on Hungary.

The unknown element in all of the picture is this: Have the Russians, after watching the hatred shown for them in the satellites, determined on a new, hard course?

Stalin was never more terrible than his heirs were in Hungary. Are those heirs going to pretend softness again or from now on turn utterly and publicly ruthless?

Strasburg Lutheran Church Destroyed

DOVER (AP)—Fire destroyed the three-story First Lutheran Church at Strasburg, eight miles north of here Monday. No estimate of the loss was available.

Strasburg Fire Chief Luke Barnes said the blaze apparently was caused by a short circuit in a heating system fan. Firemen from Beach City, north of Strasburg, assisted in the battle.

Chief Barnes said the fire apparently had been burning for some time before it was reported by a neighbor.

The church, a frame structure, had an auditorium with a seating capacity of 250, 15 classrooms, a kitchen and other rooms.

That 11 per cent of the lawyers in France wear skirts. So do 23 per cent of the dentists, 28 per cent of the pharmacists, and 7 per cent of the doctors. There are 19 women deputies in the National Assembly, and nine women senators in the Council of the Republic.

That road gauge of American railways is equal to the width between the wheels of ancient Rome's battle chariots—five feet, eight inches. We copied the idea from the British who, in the days when they were savages and painted themselves blue, were occupied by the Romans. That a million Americans now wear contact lenses.

That if you make a mistake, you aren't the only one. The nation used up two million pounds of erasers last year.

That it was Bismarck, Germany's "Iron Chancellor," who once contemptuously observed, "universal suffrage is the government of a house by its nursery."

That, if this is true, universal suffrage in the United States proved that a house run by a bunch of smart kids will outlast one ruled by a stupid king.

Politics and Disarmament

On Oct. 6, Konstantin Orlov, commentator in English to North America, on the Moscow radio, said:

"...Spokesmen for the Republican administration assert that they stand for disarmament, if such measures can be controlled—but why, in that case, do they spurn the Soviet Union's proposal to prohibit by agreement the testing of nuclear weapons which it is easy to keep tabs on, even now, without waiting for any elaborate system of control?"

"To check up on the fulfillment of such an agreement is a simple matter, because instruments can immediately detect any nuclear weapons tests and the whole world would at one point its finger at the transgressor. Obviously it is not the absence of control that is keeping the problem unsolved, but the absence of desire."

This same argument is being used by Thomas K. Finletter and Adlai Stevenson. The idea is that as the Russians refuse to agree to a universal treaty for inspection and control, why not agree to stop testing the H-bomb anyhow? The Russians have rejected international inspection and control since 1946 when the Baruch plan was introduced.

What guarantee is there that every test can be discovered? It can be said that up to now, the United States has succeeded in discovering some Russian explosions, perhaps all of them, but nobody can be sure that we discovered all of them. Nobody knows. Without inspection, nobody can know.

"...Adlai Stevenson says in his campaign speeches that he supports the proposal to ban atomic tests and argues that new ideas, which the Republicans do not have, are needed to find a solution to the disarmament problem."

"That, of course, is true—especially when we speak of ideas that could help reach agreement, for we all know how things have been so far with the representatives of the Republicans. Every time the Soviet Union agreed with American proposals, the U. S. representative promptly retracted and offered something else. Under such circumstances, it is indeed hard to find a way to disarmament, but what I would like to know is: what prevented the Democrats from suggesting new ideas heretofore, particularly with regard to disarmament?"

Actually the Baruch proposal was made when the Democratic Harry Truman was president. At that time, there was another proposal, called the Acheson-Lilienthal plan. The Russians gave no indication of wanting to accept that. In fact, there is nothing in the record to show that the Russians ever accepted any American proposal to limit or outlaw the atomic bomb; the fact being that the Americans insisted upon inspection and control which the Russians regularly rejected.

What have the Russians to say about the conference at the summit at Geneva where Bulganin and Khrushchev met with Eisenhower and Eden? A proposal was made then which could have outlawed the bomb. What became of that? What have the Russians done about the "open sky" proposal?

Orlov does not have much to say in favor of the Democrats. This is his comment:

"The leaders of the Democratic party, judging from their statements, are disclaiming Washington's policies, but what are they offering instead? Nothing special as far as I can see. They seem to actually favor the same course of conduct, because none of the Democratic leaders who are leveling criticism at the Republicans are inclined to condemn the mailed fist policy or the arms drive."

This is one point of view. On the same Oct. 6, Alexeyev, another Soviet commentator, speaking in Japanese, said:

"A majority of people have often been puzzled by the American attitude toward disarmament and a ban of nuclear weapons tests. American officials have offered a great number of proposals and schemes on these issues. The proposals and schemes, however, have been changed so often that the people, ignorant of the reasons for the changes, have often been puzzled."

"They may have the impression that America is searching for the best way to achieve disarmament. In fact, however, America has made no practical proposal, nor has it accepted any proposals during 11 years of discussion on disarmament in both general and nuclear weapons. This fact gives us the contrary impression—that America has no interest in disarmament."

Bernard Baruch will be interested in knowing that his proposal to outlaw the A-bomb is not even in the record. Baruch took his work in this connection very seriously.

Diet and Health Hip Joint Affliction Common in Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Few of you probably have ever heard of transient synovitis. Yet, this condition is one of the most common hip joint afflictions among children between the ages of 3 and 10.

Sometimes it's called transitory arthritis, coxitis or observation hip; but they are all the same thing.

Boys seem to fall victim to this disease more readily than do girls. In either case, recovery seldom takes longer than two weeks.

Factors in development of transient synovitis may be an injury, allergy or upper respiratory infection. Generally, the ailment begins abruptly with a pain in the hip, knee or thigh. The suffering youngster will begin limping, too.

There are no broken bones and usually no bony changes of any kind are noticeable. X-ray may uncover minor changes in soft tissues in the area.

Two Diseases
Your doctor, of course, is the only one who should diagnose the trouble. And prompt diagnosis is highly important since early treatment is especially valuable in combating the two diseases most similar to transient synovitis—tuberculosis and Legg-Perthes disease.

Generally, strict rest in bed is advisable. Usually that's about all the treatment needed, although, in some cases, doctors might recommend use of traction.

Local Applications
Your doctor also might prescribe local applications of heat to combat discomfort, muscle spasm and definite limitation of hip movement.

If treatment is begun promptly, your youngster probably will be up and around in from a week to ten days.

But let me caution you again to consult your doctor as soon as you spot something wrong. Your child is the most important thing in your life. Take good care of him.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
S. J.: What causes a dropping of the bladder in women?
Answer: The most common cause, of course, is childbirth. During childbirth, the muscles that hold the bladder up may become weakened. This can usually be corrected by surgery.

Strasburg Lutheran Church Destroyed
DOVER (AP)—Fire destroyed the three-story First Lutheran Church at Strasburg, eight miles north of here Monday. No estimate of the loss was available.

Strasburg Fire Chief Luke Barnes said the blaze apparently was caused by a short circuit in a heating system fan. Firemen from Beach City, north of Strasburg, assisted in the battle.

Chief Barnes said the fire apparently had been burning for some time before it was reported by a neighbor.

The church, a frame structure, had an auditorium with a seating capacity of 250, 15 classrooms, a kitchen and other rooms.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians are either bluffing or moving the world close to war. They may be bluffing to divert attention from the barbarism of their attacks on Hungary.

Their language was not precise, but they seemed to have warned the British and French Monday to get out of Egypt, which those two American allies attacked last week.

The White House issued a statement which in turn seemed to warn the Russians not to attack the French and British. But the White House statement wasn't precise either.

Three things make the Russian warning to the British and French like a bluff:

1. They made it just after their own troops opened fire on the Hungarians for revolting against their Communist masters.

2. They proposed the United States join Russia in attacking the American allies in Egypt. If the United States did that, it would have no big allies and Russia would dominate the world. As could be expected, the White House said this was "unthinkable."
3. The Russians made their proposal in a way they knew couldn't work. They said the United States and Russia should act together, "backed by the United Nations," and they took their proposal to the U.N. Security Council. They knew before hand it would be voted there, if not by the United States, then by Britain and France. The council wouldn't even consider it Monday night.

The White House statement was issued Monday night through press secretary James C. Hagerty, but not signed by President Eisenhower.

It said in part: "The introduction of new forces (into Egypt) would violate the U. N. Charter and it would be the duty of all United Nations members, including the United States, to oppose any such effort."

What wasn't clear in this statement was the use of the word "oppose." How would the United States "oppose" a Russian attack on the French and British? By attacking Russia or by making a speech in the U. N.? Eisenhower promised American forces would not be used in "these present hostilities" in Egypt.

The Russians have wanted to dominate the Middle East. They were making progress. But then they horrified Asians and Africans whom they most wanted to impress through their attack on Hungary.

The unknown element in all of the picture is this: Have the Russians, after watching the hatred shown for them in the satellites, determined on a new, hard course?

Stalin was never more terrible than his heirs were in Hungary. Are those heirs going to pretend softness—again or from now on turn utterly and publicly ruthless?

Some Candidates Concede Loss Early

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is precedent for a presidential candidate to concede defeat before midnight on election day or to hold out for several days.

In 1920, Democrat James M. Cox conceded at 9:15 p.m. his defeat by Warren G. Harding, Republican.

In 1916, Republican Charles Evans Hughes waited several days for the official tabulation in California before conceding he had lost to Democrat Woodrow Wilson.

In 1948, Republican Thomas E. Dewey clung to a ray of hope until 11:15 a.m. the morning after election before conceding publicly to Democrat Harry S. Truman.

In 1952, Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson conceded to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower at 1:44 a.m.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Walter M. Free, postmaster at Good Hope succeeding Herbert A. Murray, has the post office in his own property, a small frame building east of Wayne Hall.

He became acting postmaster in November 1953 and was appointed postmaster in 1954.

There are 75 boxes in the Good Hope post office, all worked with a combination which was much in use years ago.

The building occupied by the post office formerly was the Dr. S. E. Boggs office, and after Dr. Boggs moved to Washington C. H. to enlarge his practice, the building had been used for storage room.

Good Hope post office is served by a Greenfield rural route and two star mail routes, one from this city and the other from Greenfield.

Mail for Good Hope is sent to Greenfield early in the morning from Washington C. H. and the one or more bags are picked up by the rural carrier out of Greenfield and delivered at the post office in Good Hope around 9:30 a. m. It contains most of the mail coming into the town.

The star routes are one out of Washington at 4:05 p. m., and the other from Greenfield at 6:00 p. m.

In this way Good Hope patrons receive a good mail service generally.

LOW LIVESTOCK PRICES

Fifty-five years ago Fayette County farmers were selling their hogs at $4.50 per 100 pounds, and cattle at $4.30 per 100 pounds. Wheat was selling at 62 cents per bushel, and other farm produce in proportion.

These prices are noted in an old account book formerly kept by D. Frank Osborn, prominent farmer of the Jamestown road, who died 16 years ago.

Prior to the above date hogs and cattle at times, both sold under $3 per 100 pounds.

Today hogs are selling around $14.75, top, and top cattle $24.50 per 100 pounds.

REAL JOHNNY CAKES

Most of you folks like Johnny

Cakes, when they are properly prepared and baked. They were popular with the first settlers in this area, and have always been, down through the years until bread making has become almost a lost art.

The Johnny Cake recipe I am giving you herewith is from the 24th edition of "Directions for Cookery," edited by "Miss Leslie" and published by Carey and Hart, Philadelphia, in 1846, or 100 years ago.

The book formerly was owned by Miss Grace Priddy, of Washington C. H., who gave it to Mrs. Ralph Penn. The latter treasures it very highly.

In quoting the accompanying recipe for Johnny Cake, the method of baking must naturally be changed as you will see when you read the recipe.

"Johnny Cake — Sift a quart of Indian meal into a pan. Make a hole in the middle and pour in a pint of warm water. Mix the meal and water gradually into a batter, adding a small teaspoonful of salt.

"Beat it very hard and for a long time, until it becomes quite light. Then spread it thin and even on a stout piece of smooth board. Place it upright on the hearth before a clear fire, with a flat iron on something of the sort to support the board behind, and bake it well. Cut it into squares and split and butter them hot."

SNOWFALL RECORD

Snowfall from 1884 to 1901 showed a variance of 55.3 inches in southwestern Ohio, according to data carried in an old account book used by D. Frank Osborn, which is now in possession of O. W. Kelley, of the Jamestown Rd.

The snowfall ranged from 8.5 inches in 1896 to 63.8 inches in 1910 the record shows, and I recall the first heavy snow that year was early in October.

The record follows:

1884-85, 21.4 inches.
1885-86, 37.3 inches.
1886-87, 31.9 inches.
1887-88, 23.3 inches.
1888-89, 16.3 inches.
1889-90, 21.4 inches.
1890-91, 33.9 inches.
1891-92, 18.8 inches.
1892-93, 37.7 inches.
1893-94, 20.3 inches.
1894-95, 34.8 inches.
1895-96, 23.2 inches.
1896-97, 8.5 inches.
1897-98, 10.7 inches.
1898-99, 18.6 inches.
1899-1900, 11.6 inches.
1900-01, 21.7 inches.
1901-02, 19.7 inches.
1902-03, 23.2 inches.
1903-04, 29.1 inches.
1904-05, 21.7 inches.
1905-06, 21.7 inches.
1906-07, 19.7 inches.
1907-08, 13.8 inches.
1908-09, 16.2 inches.
1909-10, 63.8 inches.

Fayette County Sales Tax Receipts Decline

Retail sales in Fayette County during the week ending Oct. 20 took a drop of nearly 25 per cent under the corresponding week last year, as reflected in the sales tax report from the office of the state treasurer.

Sales tax receipts for the week here were $7,617.45 and for the corresponding week a year ago $10,783.48.

For the year to date, total sales are $128,380.92 and for the previous year to the same date $138,858.29.

Sales in three of the other six counties in the seven-county area also were off for the week ending Oct. 20. In Madison County, the drop was slight, from $9,709.49 to $9,428.60, but in Pickaway it was from $7,520.75 to $4,861.42 and in Ross County from $17,883.59 to $16,102.47.

Clinton, Greene and Highland counties all had increases: Clinton from $10,896.36 to $11,532.08; Greene from $16,733.21 to $20,358.27 and Highland from $6,922.12 to $8,104.63.

All seven counties are running behind last year's sales for the year to date.

IN THE STATE as a whole, weekly tax receipt sales exceeded those for the corresponding week of last year, for the fifth time this year, the state treasurer's report showed.

The report disclosed total weekly collections of $3,870,823 for the week ending Oct. 20, for an excess of $109,187, or 2.9 per cent, over the $3,761,636 received for the same week last year.

It was further disclosed that grand total collections amounted to $66,307,018 for the fiscal year to date. This is $1,720,076, or 2.52 per cent, below collections of $68,027,094 of last year.

An analysis of the report showed that 19 counties, including both Cuyahoga and Stark, had cumulative collections exceeding those of last year, while 35 other counties, including both Franklin and Mahoning, reported weekly receipts in excess of those for the same week last year.

SWEEPING CHANGE IN '57 OLDSMOBILE—Completely new styling from hooded headlamps to taillights features Oldsmobile for 1957, with the most sweeping model change in 20 years, as presented in this Super "88" Holiday coupe. "Sky-line" beading down the roof extends into the rear deck and sets off the twin-strutted rear windows with three separate glass areas. Distinguishing the new front end are the new "hi-lo" bumper, twin front fender rocket emblems and parking lights adapted from the experimental Golden Rocket. Inside there is a new strut-mounted instrument panel and a wide variety of new upholstery fabrics and colors. Mechanically, there is a new 277-h.p. "Rocket" engine known as the T-400 because of its high torque throughout the driving range. The new Olds will go on display Friday at Don's Auto Sales, 518 Clinton Ave.

Ohio Aviation Board Seeks Airstrips at State Parks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Within a few years you will be able to fly to one-half dozen or more state recreation areas and conservancy districts, if plans of the Ohio Aviation Board materialize.

The board has financed building two grassy airstrips and is completing plans for a third which is destined to be ready by next spring.

In addition, says board Director C. E. A. Brown, four more landing strips will be built in the next two or three years.

The board wants to make it easier for the small plane pilot to visit a state lake or park. Says Brown:

"Ohio's recreation areas will be only four hours by air from half of the country's large population areas with the availability of runways at our parks and lakes."

Funds to build the airstrip will come from license fees which the board may use. Brown said enough funds are on hand now to build all the airstrips planned for the next few years.

The first airstrip was built several years ago at the Pleasant Hill Reservoir area about 15 miles southeast of Mansfield.

"It turned out to be so successful that we decided to build more," Brown said.

The reservoir is operated by the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District.

A second strip was built at the Delaware Reservoir in Delaware County. It was in limited use this summer and will be opened officially next spring. The state partly Muskingum conservancy district. Indian Lake in Logan County, a state recreational area.

Findlay Lake, recently built in Lorain County.

Lake St. Marys in Mercer and Auglaize counties.

The big state beach area at East Harbor in Ottawa County.

Successful sites will be those that can be converted into landing strips the easiest, Brown said. The board wants to keep complete costs for each strip below $6,000.

None of the airstrips will compete with private airports. There will be no landing fees, Brown said.

None of the strips will be paved and there will be no gasoline facilities or hangars.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Walter M. Free, postmaster at Good Hope succeeding Herbert A. Murray, has the post office in his own property, a small frame building east of Wayne Hall.

He became acting postmaster in November 1953 and was appointed postmaster in 1954.

There are 75 boxes in the Good Hope post office, all worked with a combination which was much in use years ago.

The building occupied by the post office formerly was the Dr. S. E. Boggs office, and after Dr. Boggs moved to Washington C. H. to enlarge his practice, the building had been used for storage room.

Good Hope post office is served by a Greenfield rural route and two star mail routes, one from this city and the other from Greenfield.

Mail for Good Hope is sent to Greenfield early in the morning from Washington C. H. and the one or more bags are picked up by the rural carrier out of Greenfield and delivered at the post office in Good Hope around 9:30 a. m. It contains most of the mail coming into the town.

The star routes are one out of Washington at 4:05 p. m., and the other from Greenfield at 6:00 p. m.

In this way Good Hope patrons receive a good mail service generally.

LOW LIVESTOCK PRICES

Fifty-five years ago Fayette County farmers were selling their hogs at $4.50 per 100 pounds, and cattle at $4.30 per 100 pounds. Wheat was selling at 62 cents per bushel, and other farm produce in proportion.

These prices are noted in an old account book formerly kept by D. Frank Osborn, prominent farmer of the Jamestown road, who died 16 years ago.

Prior to the above date hogs and cattle at times, both sold under $3 per 100 pounds.

Today hogs are selling around $14.75, top, and top cattle $24.50 per 100 pounds.

REAL JOHNNY CAKES

Most of you folks like Johnny

Cakes, when they are properly prepared and baked. They were popular with the first settlers in this area, and have always been, down through the years until bread making has become almost a lost art.

The Johnny Cake recipe I am giving you herewith is from the 24th edition of "Directions for Cookery," edited by "Miss Leslie" and published by Carey and Hart, Philadelphia, in 1846, or 100 years ago.

The book formerly was owned by Miss Grace Priddy, of Washington C. H., who gave it to Mrs. Ralph Penn. The latter treasures it very highly.

In quoting the accompanying recipe for Johnny Cake, the method of baking must naturally be changed as you will see when you read the recipe.

"Johnny Cake — Sift a quart of Indian meal into a pan. Make a hole in the middle and pour in a pint of warm water. Mix the meal and water gradually into a batter, adding a small teaspoonful of salt.

"Beat it very hard and for a long time, until it becomes quite light. Then spread it thin and even on a stout piece of smooth board. Place it upright on the hearth before a clear fire, with a flat iron on something of the sort to support the board behind, and bake it well. Cut it into squares and split and butter them hot."

SNOWFALL RECORD

Snowfall from 1884 to 1901 showed a variance of 55.3 inches in Southwestern Ohio, according to data carried in an old account book used by D. Frank Osborn, which is now in possession of O. W. Kelley, of the Jamestown Rd.

The snowfall ranged from 8.5 inches in 1896 to 63.8 inches in 1910 the record shows, and I recall the first heavy snow that year was early in October.

The record follows:

1884-85, 21.4 inches.
1885-86, 37.3 inches.
1886-87, 31.9 inches.
1887-88, 23.3 inches.
1888-89, 16.3 inches.
1889-90, 21.4 inches.
1890-91, 33.9 inches.
1891-92, 18.8 inches.
1892-93, 37.7 inches.
1893-94, 20.3 inches.
1894-95, 34.8 inches.
1895-96, 23.2 inches.
1896-97, 8.5 inches.
1897-98, 10.7 inches.
1898-99, 18.6 inches.
1899-1900, 11.6 inches.
1900-01, 21.7 inches.
1901-02, 19.7 inches.
1902-03, 23.2 inches.
1903-04, 29.1 inches.
1904-05, 21.7 inches.
1905-06, 21.7 inches.
1906-07, 19.7 inches.
1907-08, 13.8 inches.
1908-09, 16.2 inches.
1909-10, 63.8 inches.

Heliturtle Found

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A navy mechanic overhauling a marine co. helicopter opened a car-buretor air duct — and found a four-inch turtle.

It was emaciated but alive and apparently had been in the duct a long time. But no one could explain how it got there.

WHS Band To Appear At Brown Game Sunday

The Washington High School marching band, under the direction of Bob Neumann, will perform between halves of the Cleveland Browns-Baltimore Colts game at Municipal Stadium in Cleveland Sunday.

The band has been rehearsing steadily for the event and practice will continue until the day of the performance. "Circus" will be the theme for the half-time show.

The trip is being financed by

Fayette County Sales Tax Receipts Decline

Retail sales in Fayette County during the week ending Oct. 20 took a drop of nearly 25 per cent under the corresponding week last year, as reflected in the sales tax report from the office of the state treasurer.

Sales tax receipts for the week here were $7,617.45 and for the corresponding week a year ago $10,783.48.

For the year to date, total sales are $128,380.92 and for the previous year to the same date $138,858.29.

Sales in three of the other six counties in the seven-county area also were off for the week ending Oct. 20. In Madison County, the drop was slight, from $9,709.49 to $9,426.60, but in Pickaway it was from $7,520.75 to $4,861.42 and in Ross County from $17,883.59 to $16,102.47.

Clinton, Greene and Highland counties all had increases: Clinton from $10,896.36 to $11,532.08; Greene from $16,733.21 to $20,358.27 and Highland from $6,922.12 to $8,104.63.

All seven counties are running behind last year's sales for the year to date.

IN THE STATE as a whole, weekly tax receipt sales exceeded those for the corresponding week of last year, for the fifth time this year, the state treasurer's report showed.

The report disclosed total weekly collections of $3,870,823 for the week ending Oct. 20, for an excess of $109,187, or 2.9 per cent, over the $3,761,636 received for the same week last year.

It was further disclosed that grand total collections amounted to $66,307,018 for the fiscal year to date. This is $1,720,076, or 2.52 per cent, below collections of $68,027,094 of last year.

An analysis of the report showed that 19 counties, including both Cuyahoga and Stark, had cumulative collections exceeding those of last year, while 35 other counties, including both Franklin and Mahoning, reported weekly receipts in excess of those for the same week last year.

SWEEPING CHANGE IN '57 OLDSMOBILE—Completely new styling from hooded headlamps to taillights features Oldsmobile for 1957, with the most sweeping model change in 20 years, as presented in this Super '48' Holiday coupe. "Sky-line" beading down the roof extends into the rear deck and sets off the twin-strutted rear windows with three separate glass areas. Distinguishing the new front end are the new "hi-lo" bumper, twin front fender rocket emblems and parking lights adapted from the experimental Golden Rocket. Inside there is a new strut-mounted instrument panel and a wide variety of new upholstery fabrics and colors. Mechanically, there is a new 277-h. p. "Rocket" engine known as the T-400 because of its high torque throughout the driving range. The new Olds will go on display Friday at Don's Auto Sales, 518 Clinton Ave.

Ohio Aviation Board Seeks Airstrips at State Parks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Within a few years you will be able to fly to one-half dozen or more state recreation areas and conservancy districts, if plans of the Ohio Aviation Board materialize.

The board has financed building two grassy airstrips and is completing plans for a third which is destined to be ready by next spring.

In addition, says board Director C. E. A. Brown, four more landing strips will be built in the next two or three years.

The board wants to make it easier for the small plane pilot to visit a state lake or park. Says Brown:

"Ohio's recreation areas will be only four hours by air from half of the country's large population areas with the availability of runways at our parks and lakes."

Funds to build the airstrip will come from license fees which the board may use. Brown said enough funds are on hand now to build all the airstrips planned for the next few years.

The first airstrip was built several years ago at the Pleasant Hill Reservoir area about 15 miles southeast of Mansfield.

"It turned out to be so successful that we decided to build more," Brown said.

The reservoir is operated by the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District.

A second strip was built at the Delaware Reservoir in Delaware County. It was in limited use this summer and will be opened officially next spring. The state partly controls lands around this reservoir.

The board had to buy land for the airstrip it plans for Kiser Lake in Champaign County. The state owns the lake but did not have land suitable for a landing strip.

The board is considering a half dozen possible sites for four other airstrips. They include:

Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County, which also is a state park. Seneca Lake in Guernsey County, which belongs to the Muskingum conservancy district. Indian Lake in Logan County, a state recreational area.

Pindlay Lake, recently built in Lorain County.

Lake St. Marys in Mercer and Auglaize counties.

The big state beach area at East Harbor in Ottawa County.

Successful sites will be those that can be converted into landing strips the easiest, Brown said. The board wants to keep complete costs for each strip below $6,000.

None of the airstrips will compete with private airports. There will be no landing fees, Brown said.

None of the strips will be paved and there will be no gasoline facilities or hangars.

Sorority Chapter Meets With Mrs. Sexton

Members of Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held their regular meeting at Mrs. Edward Sexton's home Monday evening with Mrs. Kay Jennings, president, presiding and conducting the opening ritual.
Mrs. Guy Briggs, social chairman, announced plans for dessert card party Mon., Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Harry Campbell and the members of the Zeta Upsilon, the sister chapter, will be included as guests.
Mrs. Floyd West and Mrs. James DeWeese were appointed to make calls on the rest homes in the city for the month of November.
Mrs. Richard Snyder will serve as general chairman of the Christmas Party for worthy pre-school children which is an annual event sponsored in conjunction with the Zeta Upsilon Chapter.

The cultural program topic was "Posture and Poise" with Mrs. Richard Snyder in charge and she pointed out even though we cannot all be tall, we should give the tall approach to our posture.
She also explained and demonstrated to the group, correct posture while walking, sitting, standing and the entire group participated in the demonstration.
Interpretations of poise were given by Mrs. Snyder and the members and well known personalities were cited as examples of good poise.
Mrs. Snyder closed with the comments that without good mental and physical health, good posture and poise are not possible. To present a good outward appearance in all respect one must begin at the beginning — inside.
The hostess served a dessert course assisted by Mrs. Robert Olinger and a social hour was enjoyed.

Church Society Meets with Mrs. Schlichter

The Missionary Society of Sugar Creek Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Hazel Schlichter with eleven members in attendance.
Impressive devotionals were given by the hostess which included a vocal solo by Mr. Jack Kellough.
The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. J. C. Coil and plans were made for a pot luck dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. Donald Breakefield, November 8 with the afternoon spent in preparing supplies for a leper colony.
Interesting letters from the Mathers School, Beaufort, South Carolina and Dayton Christian Center, were read by Mrs. Breakefield.
The Christmas meeting will feature a gift exchange and a special love gift offering for the year will be made at this time.
A playlet, "Go Thou" describing home mission work of the Baptist Denomination was given by Mrs. J. C. Coil, Mrs. Nellie Hynes, and Miss Golda Baughn.
The hostess assisted by Mrs. Kellough served delicious refreshments.

New Members Are Initiated Into Sorority

Formal initiation of pledges highlighted the meeting of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Joe Rush.
The meeting was opened according to the ritual with the president, Mrs. John Richards, in charge and she also conducted the candle light ceremony for initiation of pledges, Mrs. David Deppner, Mrs. Norman Trout and Mrs. Warner Penrod, who received a yellow rosebud which is the chapter flower.
During the business session presided over by Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Virgil Lowe was appointed as chairman for the Christmas Party for underprivileged children of preschool age in conjunction with Xi Beta Psi, the sister chapter.
The program was in charge of Mrs. Richards who used as her topic "Interpretation of Love" and opened with two quotations, "Where Love Is, God Is — He That Dwelleth in Love, Dwelleth in God" and "Love An Act of the Spirit Reaching Out In Tenderness and Concern Toward All People".
She used as examples the names of St. Francis of Assisi, Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Mohandes K. Gandi, and gave their life history, how merchant, doctor and lawyer gave up their positions and as young men accepted the love of God to help other people.
The meeting was adjourned and the hostess served dainty refreshments from a tea table centered with an arrangement of flowers flanked with tapers, carrying out a yellow color scheme. Mrs. William Williams, the assisting hostess, presided over the punch bowl.

Mrs. William McArthur, president, presided over the opening ritual which was followed with the reports of all standing committees which were approved.
Announcements were made for the annual Christmas dinner party at Washington Country Club Monday, Dec. 3, which will include a gift exchange, and the annual pilgrimage for a spring month, with the date to be decided upon later and the committee in charge will be Mrs. Richard Willis Jr., Mrs. Willis Coffman and Mrs. John Bailey Jr.

It was announced that the date Feb. 16, has been chosen for the annual Founder's Day dance to be held at the Washington Country Club.
It was also decided to sponsor the Cancer Drive in April, and the remainder of the evening was taken up with a "Master Piece Auction" of homemade articles auctioned by Mrs. Gene Sagar with Mrs. Willis Coffman as clerk, which netted a large sum to be added to the treasury.
Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Roszmann and her assisting hostesses: Mrs. Jay Willis Dick, Mrs. Omar Schwartz Jr., and Mrs. Harford H. Hankins Jr.

Mrs. Frank Hutson, an inactive member, was included as a guest.

Jordans Hosts At Dinner On Sunday

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Jord an entertained at a covered dish dinner on Sunday, and guests were seated at one long and one small table in the recreation room of their home, with late fall flowers in an attractive pottery container centering the table.
Following the congenial hour spent around the table, the afternoon was spent in the viewing of colored slides taken here and also at places where they have visited and vacationed.
Those sharing in the hospitality of the Jordans were: Mr. and Mrs. Monte Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howson, Mrs. Harry Rosebaum, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Wilson, daughters Victoria and Julia, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Creamer, daughter Constance, sons James and Randall, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. John T. F. Jordan, Mrs. J. C. Daugherty and Mr. George Newbert of Columbus.

eth In Love, Dwelleth In God" and "Love An Act of the Spirit Reaching Out In Tenderness and Concern Toward All People".

She used as examples the names of St. Francis of Assisi, Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Mohandes K. Gandi, and gave their life history, how merchant, doctor and lawyer gave up their positions and as young men accepted the love of God to help other people.
The meeting was adjourned and the hostess served dainty refreshments from a tea table centered with an arrangement of flowers flanked with tapers, carrying out a yellow color scheme. Mrs. William Williams, the assisting hostess, presided over the punch bowl.

Mrs. Stinson Is Hostess To DAR Members

Monday afternoon, Mrs. William L. Stinson opened her beautiful and spacious home for the November meeting of the Washington Court House Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Several vases of orchid, yellow, and bronze chrysanthemums were used in the living room.
Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett, regent, opened the meeting and presided during the business session, which followed.

In the absence of Miss Golda Baughn, chaplain, Miss Vera Veal conducted the devotions.
Mrs. J. Earl Gidding, chairman of the Flag of the United States committee, led the Salute to the Flag and the singing of one verse of the "Star Spangled Banner".
Mrs. John D. Forsythe read the November message from the President General and Mrs. Jess Feagans read the state regent's message in which a happy Thanksgiving was wished to all.

The secretary's report of the October luncheon meeting was accepted as read. Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, chairman of national defense, gave a fine short talk on her subject.

Points to be made, by each chapter wanting to be on this year's honor roll, were read to the Daughters by Mrs. Wash Lough, honor roll chairman.

It was announced that orchid note paper may be obtained through the treasurer and the profit on these floral notes benefit the D.A.R. Museum Fund.

The regent, Mrs. Parrett, introduced Mrs. Loren D. Hynes who gave a splendid discussion of a difficult subject, the "Dirksen Version of the Bricker Amendment".

While preparations were under way for the showing of color slides, copies of the Revised Bylaws were distributed to the Daughters present.

Mrs. Parrett introduced Mrs. John N. McFadden and Mrs. James E. Rose who brought to the Daughters "The First Ladies of the White House" through color slides showing White House room settings and the dresses worn by the First Ladies. Mrs. McFadden gave the commentary and Mrs. Rose operated the projector.

During the social hour which followed, the Daughters and their guests were invited to the dining room where a tea table covered with an Italian cut-work cloth and centered with an exquisite water-garden of pastel mums was in readiness. Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett, regent, and Mrs. J. Earl McLean presided over the tea and coffee service.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Stinson for the afternoon included: Mrs.

Music Club Holds Meeting

The Singing Keys Music Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Creamer, the sponsor, for their regular monthly meeting.

The business session was opened by the president, Jeannette Ellis during which the secretary's report was read and approved and a project was planned for the December meeting which is to be held on December 15 and the group decided to omit a gift exchange.

An interesting program followed the business session which was opened with a vocal duet by Mary Lou and Beverly Athey, "I Pledge My Allegiance" with Beverly at the piano and the club plans to use this patriotic song as an opening number at each meeting.

The following piano numbers were presented: Jeannette Ellis, "To A Skyscraper"; Beverly Athey, "Black Hawk Waltz"; Connie Creamer, "Symphony No. 5"; Joan Smith, "Having Fun"; Ralph Baughn, "Drifting"; Ralph Sigman, "Spring Flowers".

The following vocal numbers presented were: Linda Kuhlwein, "The Flowers Grow Up"; "One Little, Two Little, Three Little Witches"; Jimmie Creamer and David Cooper, "Halloween is Coming"; Connie Creamer, and Joan Smith, "We Are Jack-O-Lanterns"; Beverly and Mary Lou Athey, "I Have a Pumpkin Yellow"; Ralph Baughn, Ralph Sigman, and David Cooper, "Five Little Pumpkins Sitting On A Gate"; David Cooper, "Two Little Pumpkins"; Vicky Sheridan, "The Witches Are Calling"; Connie Creamer, Sally and Joan Smith, "There Are Many Flags".

Tempting refreshments were served to the fourteen members present by Mrs. Creamer assisted by her daughter, Connie.

Jess Feagans, Mrs. Ralph Penn, Miss Vera Veal, Mrs. J. Earl Gidding, Mrs. Robert Coffman, Mrs. Max Dice, Miss Bernice O'Brian, Mrs. Mathew McDonald Sr., Miss Ann Robinson, Mrs. Fred B. Creamer, Mrs. Harry Rankin, Mrs. Edgar Coil, Mrs. James Tremlett, Mrs. Troy T. Junk and Mrs. Chester James.

Guests were: Mrs. Lewis H. Wolfe, Mrs. Warren Schleich, Mrs. F. J. McAdams, and Miss Virginia Thompson.

Mrs. Lang Johnson, an out of town member, was present from Marion.

New Members Are Initiated Into Sorority

Formal initiation of pledges highlighted the meeting of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Joe Rush.

The meeting was opened according to the ritual with the president, Mrs. John Richards, in charge and she also conducted the candle light ceremony for initiation of pledges, Mrs. David Deppner, Mrs. Norman Trout and Mrs. Warner Penrod, who received a yellow rosebud which is the chapter flower.

During the business session presided over by Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Virgil Lowe was appointed as chairman for the Christmas Party for underprivileged children of preschool age in conjunction with Xi Beta Psi, the sister chapter.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Richards who used as her topic "Interpretation of Love" and opened with two quotations, "Where Love Is, God Is — He That Dwelleth In Love, Dwelleth In God" and "Love An Act of the Spirit Reaching Out In Tenderness and Concern Toward All People".

She used as examples the names of St. Francis of Assisi, Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Mohandes K. Gandhi, and gave their life history, how merchant, doctor and lawyer gave up their positions and as young men accepted the love of God to help other people.

The meeting was adjourned and the hostess served dainty refreshments from a tea table centered with an arrangement of flowers flanked with tapers, carrying out a yellow color scheme. Mrs. William Williams, the assisting hostess, presided over the punch bowl.

Like Granddad, Ohioans Voting For McKinley

Canton Outfit Keeps Top Rating among High School Gridders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sports editors got the jump on the other voters today, and, just as their grandpappys did 60 years ago, elected McKinley.

The scribes, 31 from newspapers and 24 from radio-television stations, decided in The Associated Press poll to keep Canton McKinley's defending state champions right up on top as the state's No. 1 high school football team.

The boisterous Bulldogs, 40-0 winners over Toledo Scott last week, gained 88 points over second-place Mansfield in the weekly voting on the 10-9-8-etc basis.

Picking up 21 first place votes and 10 second spots, the Bulldogs amassed 444 poll points to fans' field's 268, Canton gaining 80 as the Tigers dropped 8. Mansfield was an impressive 47-14 winner over Portsmouth.

Fremont Ross clung to third with 254, a single point off last week's total, by swamping Marion Harding 40-7. Massillon, perennial champion before McKinley took over last fall, wrecked Barborton's Mazies 35-6 to jump from fifth to fourth, trading places with Cleveland St. Ignatius which nosed out Cleveland West Tech 13-0.

Youngstown Ursuline leaped from eighth to sixth with a 34-6 win over Woodrow Wilson of that city, and Cincinnati Purcell climbed from 10th to seventh although handed its first loss of the campaign in a Sunday game, 32-21 by Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Cleveland Benedictine, 35-13 winner over Cleveland John Adams, went from ninth to eighth, while East Cleveland Shaw, a 13-7 victim of Euclid for its first loss, dropped from sixth to ninth. Troy, although a resounding 44-6 winner over Piqua for its eighth straight, skidded from seventh to 10th.

Van Wert, 21st a week ago, defeated St. Marys 13-7 for its eighth straight to leap 10 spots to 11th, doubling its poll points to 72. The top 10 teams have a combined won-loss record of 73-6.

Shown are first place votes in parentheses, poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis and scoring records of the top 10.

Teams	Poll Pts.	Scoring
Canton McKinley (21)	444	401-52
Mansfield (1)	268	185-93
Fremont Ross (11)	254	266-59
Massillon (9)	174	195-69
Cleveland St. Ignatius (7)	151	225-57
Youngs Ursuline (5)	128	237-58
Cincy. Purcell (4)	123	258-76
Cleveland Benedictine (4)	105	299-72
E. Cleveland Shaw (1)	102	235-64
Troy (2)	86	320-90

Canton McKinley, Fremont Ross, Youngstown Ursuline, Cleveland Ignatius and Troy each have 8-0 won-loss tied records; Mansfield, Massillon, Cincinnati Purcell and East Cleveland Shaw are 7-1-0, and Cleveland Benedictine 5-2-0.

Others: Van Wert 72; Toledo Waite 63; East Palestine 61; Nelsonville (7) 53; Cleveland South 51; Mount Vernon 49; Otawa Hills 35; Canton Lincoln 34; East Liverpool and Hubbard 32; Lorain, Toledo Scott and Jackson 31; Rutland (2) 28; Springfield and Campbell Memorial 27; Columbus North 25; Hamilton 24; Canton Timken and Middletown 23; Columbus St. Charles and Cincinnati Western Hills 22; Toledo Devilbiss 21; New Philadelphia 20; Cincinnati Roger Bacon 18; Dayton Chardon, Euclid and Brookfield 17; Sylvania Burnham and Strongsville 11; Steubenville Central Catholic 11; Berea, Athens and Brewster 9; Alliance, Dayton Roosevelt, Vandalia Butler and Milford 8; Toledo Libbey and Oxford Talawanda 7; Lima 6; Zanesville, Dayton Fairmont, Cincinnati Elder, Navarre and Glouster 5; Lancaster, Xenia Central, Wyoming, Worthington, Newark, Springfield Catholic and Trimble 4; Marion, Marietta, Bradford and Rio Grande 3; Painesville Harvey, Conneaut, Leetonia, Xenia Woodrow Wilson, Jackson (Stark), Portsmouth, Columbus East, Fremont St. Joe and Hicksville 2; Mount Healthy, Beavercreek, Hamilton Catholic and Oak Harbor 1.

Ohioan Sparkles In Big League

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fullback Homer Floyd, a sophomore at Kansas, is back in contention again for total offensive honors in the Big Seven conference.

Lineup Changes Likely For Circleville Game

"There'll be some changes made." That's the tune they'll be singing at Gardner Park Friday night if things go according to schedule. Coach Fred Domenico plans to shake up his lineup this week in an effort to squeeze out some of that winning play he knows his boys have.

Monday night 12 of the boys watched movies of the Hilliards game at the coach's home, and were shown some of the glaring errors they made last Friday.

The team had practiced defense in the afternoon after the coach decided to forego the offensive drill he had planned. More defensive work is planned for Tuesday.

And the way the boys look in practice will help the coach to decide what changes should be made come Friday when Circleville's Tigers invade the Lions' lair.

THE BLUE LION Reserves looked sharp Monday afternoon as they crushed the Wilmington Reserves 38-19.

Ex-Lion Guard Plays on Lion Team in Korea

Glenn Milstead, who became one of the best blocking guards in many a day for the Lion gridders of WHS, is still playing football—but now it's with the army in Korea.

Still in the same position, he is playing with the Headquarters Company team that won the corps championship and the right to enter the AFCE Eighth Army tournament.

A clipping from a Korean newspaper says defensive play by Milstead was one of the big factors in his team's three straight victories on its way to the corps championship.

Milstead, son of Mrs. Helen Milstead, 1012 Yeoman St., was graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1954 and attended Wilmington College for a year before entering the army. He played guard for the Quakers, too.

HIS MOTHER said he had written her that he hopes to enter Ohio State University after he gets out of the service.

Army life apparently agrees with him because, his mother said, he now tips the scales at more than 200 pounds. That is about 20 pounds more than he weighed when he was a keystone of the WHS Lion line.

Dennis O'Conner, 622 Yeoman St., one of Milstead's close friends in high school, is stationed about 15 miles away in Korea. Milstead wrote his mother, but said they do not often get together.

Indiana Seen As Improving Very Rapidly

COLUMBUS (AP)—Indiana is being pictured by Ohio State coaches as a football team that is getting stronger.

Whether the Hoosiers are strong enough to give Ohio State's record-breaking Buckeyes a bad time here Saturday is the question. Ohio State coaches are giving it a partial answer by predicting "the toughest kind of scrap."

Ohio State set a record for consecutive Western Conference victories last week with their 16th, a 6-2 squeaker past Northwestern. Indiana beat Northwestern the week before, scoring three touchdowns in the victory.

Over-all, though, the Hoosiers have allowed 140 points in six games and scored 69. They lost to Iowa, Notre Dame and Michigan State before beating Nebraska, Northwestern and Marquette.

Ohio State has scored 125 points and permitted 42 in compiling a 5-1 record.

The man who scouted Indiana's last three victories, Clive Rush, says Indiana is just getting its first team rounded into shape after early injuries.

Indiana has won only six games in the 33-game series with Ohio State. Two have been ties.

In 1951, Indiana surprised the experts by ignoring its three-touchdown underdog status and claiming a 32-10 victory over the Bucks. Last year, Ohio State had to go all out to win 20-13.

Collie Halts Colly In Football Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—A collie dog "tackled" Mt. St. Joseph half-back Fred Colly Monday and prevented a touchdown in a high school junior varsity football game.

Colly caught a pass on the Loyola 28 yard line in the second quarter and set sail for the goal line and an apparent sure six points.

Suddenly Colly (the boy) was upended 13 yards from the goal when a collie (the dog) ran between his legs. The referee ruled the ball dead.

Mt. St. Joseph's did not score and lost the ball on downs, but hung on for a 7-6 victory.

Sooners Win Grid Election By Landslide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The first complete election return of the day show Oklahoma a clear winner in the Associated Press weekly football poll with 172 districts reporting in the seventh vote of the season by sports writers and sportscares.

Although they had a bad scare in the first half, trailing Colorado 19-6 at the time, L. Sooners came back to win their 36th straight 27-19. They lost part of their first-place support but still rated No. 1 on 116 of 172 ballots, almost four times as many as runnerup Georgia Tech.

On the basis of points, 10 for first, 9 for second, etc., Oklahoma had 1554 to Georgia Tech's 1,453. Tech had 30 firsts, Tennessee, with 1,252 points and 11 firsts, and Michigan State, with 1,102 and 7 firsts, followed.

Michigan State regained lost prestige by whipping Wisconsin 33-0. The Texas Aggies beat Arkansas 27-0 to hold fir' place. Minnesota moved up to sixth on a 9-6 edge over Pittsburgh, which fell from 11th to a tie for 20th.

Despite a 6-2 victory over Northwestern, Ohio State fell a peg to seventh and Miami (Fla.) edged up a notch by topping Florida State 20-7.

Syracuse powered its way into 13th place by downing Penn State 19-9 and Michigan advanced to 10th by shading previously unbeaten Iowa 17-14.

Grigger Breaks Leg, Calls Carpenter

SAN NATEO, Calif. (AP)—Oakland Junior College quarterback Earl Norwood was down 'n' his last leg Saturday. Wooden leg, that is.

Piloting his team to a 14-13 win over San Mateo JC, Norwood splintered his artificial leg in a third-quarter drive.

The faw flew off to one side. "Somebody get a doctor," yelled a startled official.

"What I need is a carpenter," cracked the 6-foot, 185 pound ex-Marine.

Norwood went to the dressing room, got a spare leg, returned and in the last six minutes of play directed two touchdown drives.

Winner, Loser Both Given Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—Fighting is different than politics. Both the winner and loser wound up with jobs after Monday night's main event at St. Nicholas Arena.

Wayne Bethea, 24, who won a split decision over Howie Turner, gets a tentative Dec. 17 date in the same club with Zora Folley of Phoenix.

Turner, the loser, will be matched with Argentina's Alex Miteff, Dec. 10 at St. Nick's.

It was close Monday night but Bethea appeared to have a definite edge. Both Judges Artie Adala and Arthur Schwartz scored it 6-3-1 for Bethea but referee Harry Ebbets had it for Turner 5-4-1.

Indianapolis Icers Seen as Cincy Threat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Indianapolis' greatly improved Chiefs showed last week they may be the team to snap the Cincinnati Mohawks' four-year reign over the International Hockey League.

The second place Chiefs nailed down their sixth and seventh straight wins last week, including a victory over Cincinnati that cut the Hawks league lead to two games.

Indianapolis finished in the cellar last year, but performance this year indicates that's old history. Here's some of the reasons why:

The Chiefs have beaten the Hawks both times they've met. And they are the only team so far to top Cincinnati.

The Chiefs' goalie, Cliff Hicks, is the current league leader with a 1.77 average. And he's the only goalie to score two shutouts this season.

The Chiefs' Pierre Brillant is the only league player to rack up the hat trick of three goals this season.

Cincinnati held onto its lead last week, hammering out victories over Fort Wayne and Huntington before stumbling over the Chiefs.

And Toledo's Mercury's consolidated a hold on third place with successive triumphs over the last place Troy Bruins.

Troy wound up second last season after giving the Mohawks their stoutest competition. But this year they've won only one game of their first 11.

Fort Wayne's Komets and Huntington's Hornets, locked in a scrap for fourth place, marked time last week with the Komets losing two games and the Hornets one.

Soviet Olympic Chiefs Talk Grimly at First, Then Laugh

MELBOURNE (AP) — A news conference with Soviet Olympic officials began in dead' dull Russian earnestness today, but ended in laugh'.

Yet while the Russians and newsmen laughed, three nations—the Netherlands, Switzerland and Norway — were considering a withdrawal from the games, which open Nov. 22, because of Soviet suppression of the freedom movement in Hungary.

The Netherlands was the first to announce a possible withdrawal. Norway's Olympic committee has delegated two members to "assess the international situation" and reach a decision on whether the nation will enter the games as planned.

In Switzerland, the Olympic Committee has scheduled an emergency session Wednesday to decide whether Swiss athletes should compete against the Russians.

Konstantine Andrianov, acting Russian Chief de Mission, was perfectly at ease in the press conference, which ranged from an official statement lauding Olympic arrangements to a description of Russia uniforms.

Andrianov, speaking through an interpreter, first told the 50 newsmen:

1. The Melbourne organizers had done a good job.
2. Soviet athletes were sure the games would help strengthen the ties of friendship among athletes of all countries, and 3. Soviet athletes will be allowed to wander about Melbourne, meeting people and making notes about Australia to tell the folks back home.

The laughter began when a newsmen asked the average age of the Russians and was told the youngest was 16 and generally the athletes were 22 or 23 years.

"How old is the oldest?" the reporter asked.

Andrianov and his interpreter smiled. Then Andrianov through his interpreter said: "The oldest wanted to conceal their age. Everybody wants to be young."

Andrianov said the Russian Olympic delegation would comprise 325 athletes including 44 women, 47 coaches and trainers, nine physicians and 22 officials.

He said other representatives like judges, masseurs and newsmen would bring the total to a little over 500, which is the number Melbourne is expecting.

He said three or four per cent of the athletes were from the Soviet armed forces, 60 per cent were students and the rest workers and employees.

Still Pacing Pros

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rick Casares, star runner of the Chicago Bears and Eddie Brown, the Bear's brilliant passer, continue to lead the National Football League in their specialties.

League statistics showed today that Casares increased his yardage gained to 590 yards on 119 carries, an average of five yards per try.

Brown has averaged 10.3 yards per pass, tossing 80, completing 49 for 825 y. As and 7 touchdowns

Like Granddad, Ohioans Voting For McKinley

Canton Outfit Keeps Top Rating among High School Gridders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sports editors got the jump on the other voters today, and, just as their grandpappys did 60 years ago, elected McKinley.

The scribes, 31 from newspapers and 24 from radio-television stations, decided in The Associated Press poll to keep Canton McKinley's defending state champions right up on top as the state's No. 1 high school football team.

The boisterous Bulldogs, 40-0 winners over Toledo Scott last week, gained 88 points over second-place Mansfield in the weekly voting on the 10-9-8-etc basis.

Picking up 21 first place votes and 10 second spots, the Bulldogs amassed 444 poll points to fans' field's 268, Canton gaining 80 as the Tigers dropped 8. Mansfield was an impressive 47-14 winner over Portsmouth.

Fremont Ross clung to third with 254, a single point off last week's total, by swamping Marion Harding 40-7. Massillon, perennial champion before McKinley took over last fall, wrecked Barberton's Magics 35-6 to jump from fifth to fourth, trading places with Cleveland St. Ignatius which nosed out Cleveland West Tech 13-0.

Youngstown Ursuline leaped from eighth to sixth with a 34-6 win over Woodrow Wilson of that city, and Cincinnati Purcell climbed from 10th to seventh although handed its first loss of the campaign in a Sunday game, 32-21 by Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Cleveland Benedictine, 35-13 winner over Cleveland John Adams, went from ninth to eighth, while East Cleveland Shaw, a 13-7 victim of Euclid for its first loss, dropped from sixth to ninth. Troy, although a resounding 44-6 winner over Piqua for its eighth straight, skidded from seventh to 10th.

Van Wert, 21st a week ago, defeated St. Marys 13-7 for its eighth straight to leap 10 spots to 11th, doubling its poll points to 72. The top 10 teams have a combined won-lost record of 73-6.

Shown are first place votes in parentheses, poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis and scoring records of the top 10.

Teams	Poll Pts.	Scoring
Canton McKinley (21)	444	401-52
Mansfield (1)	268	185-93
Fremont Ross (11)	254	266-59
Massillon (9)	174	195-69
Cleveland St. Ignatius (7)	151	225-32
Youngs Ursuline (5)	128	237-58
Cincy. Purcell (4)	123	258-76
Cleveland Benedictine (0)	105	239-72
E. Cleveland Shaw (1)	102	235-64
Troy (2)	86	320-90

Canton McKinley, Fremont Ross, Youngstown Ursuline, Cleveland Ignatius and Troy each have 8-0 won-lost-tied records; Mansfield, Massillon, Cincinnati Purcell and East Cleveland Shaw are 7-1-0, and Cleveland Benedictine 5-2-0.

Others: Van Wert 7-2; Toledo Waite 6-3; East Palestine 6-1; Nelsonville (7) 5-3; Cleveland South 5-1; Mount Vernon 4-9; Otawa Hills 3-5; Canton Lincoln 3-4; East Liverpool and Hubbard 3-2; Lorain, Toledo Scott and Jackson 3-1; Rutland (2) 2-8; Springfield and Campbell Memorial 2-7; Canton Timken and Hamilton 2-3; Columbus St. Charles and Cincinnati Western Hills 2-2; Toledo Devilbiss 2-1; New Philadelphia 2-0; Cincinnati Roger Bacon 1-8; Dayton Chaminade, Euclid and Brookfield 1-7; Sylvania Burnham and Strongsville 1-4; Steubenville Central Catholic 1-1; Berea, Athens and Brewster 0-9; Alliance, Dayton Roosevelt, Vandalia Butler and Milford 0-8; Toledo Libbey and Oxford Talawanda 7-1; Lima 6-1; Zanesville, Dayton Fairmont, Cincinnati Elder, Navarre and Glouster 5-1; Lancaster, Xenia Central, Wyoming, Worthington, Newark, Springfield Catholic and Trimble 4-1; Marion, Marietta, Bradford and Rio Grande 3-1; Painesville Harvey, Conneaut, Leetonia, Xenia Woodrow Wilson, Jackson (Stark), Portsmouth, Columbus East, Fremont St. Joe and Hicksville 2-2; Mount Healthy, Beavercreek, Hamilton Catholic and Oak Harbor 1-1.

Ohioan Sparkles In Big League

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fullback Homer Floyd, a sophomore at Kansas, is back in contention again for total offensive honors in the Big Seven conference.

The 20-year-old Massillon, Ohio, product lugged the ball 14 times against Kansas State last week for 136 yards, more than half the total

Lineup Changes Likely For Circleville Game

"There'll be some changes made," That's the tune they'll be singing at Gardner Park Friday night if things go according to schedule. Coach Fred Domenico plans to shake up his lineup this week in an effort to squeeze out some of that winning play he knows his boys have.

Monday night 12 of the boys watched movies of the Hilliards game at the coach's home, and were shown some of the glaring errors they made last Friday.

The team had practiced defense in the afternoon after the coach decided to forego the offensive drill he had planned. More defensive work is planned for Tuesday.

And the way the boys look in practice will help the coach to decide what changes should be made come Friday when Circleville's Tigers invade the Lions' lair.

THE BLUE LION Reserves looked sharp Monday afternoon as they crushed the Wilmington Reserves 38-19.

Jerry Sheppard scored three touchdowns, all on long runs. Floyd

Ex-Lion Guard Plays on Lion Team in Korea

Glenn Milstead, who became one of the best blocking guards in many a day for the Lion gridders of WHS, is still playing football—but now it's with the army in Korea.

Still in the same position, he is playing with the Headquarters Company team that won the corps championship and the right to enter the AFCE Eighth Army tournament.

A clipping from a Korean newspaper says defensive play by Milstead was one of the big factors in his team's three straight victories on its way to the corps championship.

Milstead, son of Mrs. Helen Milstead, 1012 Yeoman St., was graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1954 and attended Wilmington College for a year before entering the army. He played guard for the Quakers, too.

HIS MOTHER said he had written her that he hopes to enter Ohio State University after he gets out of the service.

Army life apparently agrees with him because, his mother said, he now tips the scales at more than 200 pounds. That is about 20 pounds more than he weighed when he was a keystone of the WHS Lion line.

Dennis O'Conner, 622 Yeoman St., one of Milstead's close friends in high school, is stationed about 15 miles away in Korea, Milstead wrote his mother, but said they do not often get together.

Indiana Seen As Improving Very Rapidly

COLUMBUS (AP)—Indiana is being pictured by Ohio State coaches as a football team that is getting stronger.

Whether th. Hoosiers are strong enough to give Ohio State's record-breaking Buckeyes a bad time here Saturday is the question. Ohio State coaches are giving it a partial answer by predicting "the toughest kind of scrap."

Ohio State set a record for consecutive Western Conference victories last week with their 16th, a 6-2 squeaker past Northwestern. Indiana beat Northwestern the week before, scoring three touchdowns in the victory.

Over-all, though, the Hoosiers have allowed 140 points in six games and scored 69. They lost to Iowa, Notre Dame and Michigan before beating Nebraska, Northwestern and Marquette.

Ohio State has scored 125 points and permitted 42 in compiling a 5-1 record.

School Board Meet Devoted to Routine Business

Bond Issue Proposal Is Held Legal by Legal Consultants

Members of the Washington C. H. Board of Education were given a full and detailed list of all contents of the safety deposit box at their regular meeting Monday night.

After going over the list (which had been given to them previously for study) and a minimum of discussion, it was approved and entered in the minutes.

Also made a part of the official record were the transfers of two small tracts from the Miami Trace school district to the Washington C. H. district. One was that of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipschutz on Highland Ave. and the other was that owned by Mr. and Mrs. Welden Kaufman on Dayton Ave.

The $645,000 building program bond issue proposal, on which the residents of Washington C. H. were to vote Tuesday, was declared legal in a letter from the law firm of Bricker, Marburger, Evans and Barton, Columbus legal consultant of the board, to Fred Rost, the board's clerk - treasurer. The letter, a reply to one by Rost asking the firm's interpretation of section 113.10 of Ohio law, was made a part of the minutes, too.

Miss Becky Waters, a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and the University of Kentucky, was placed on the elementary teacher substitute list on a per diem basis.

THERE WAS considerable discussion of a suggestion that organizations be permitted to provide covers for school-owned textbooks and, in the end, the board gave its approval, provided there is no commercial advertising on them. This action, it was explained, was taken to pave the way for the covers in case some organization should make the gesture to provide them. Several members of the board said some organizations were considering making the offer, but were delaying a definite proposal until the board's position was known.

The board gave its approval to participation of the WHS Varsity Band in the annual Inter-city Music Festival which is to be held this year in Mansfield. Bands from the Lancaster, Newark and Springfield high schools are the others in the Festival group. The festival was held here three years ago.

The board granted permission for the Gideons to distribute Youth Testaments to students of the fifth grades through high school. Acceptance would be on a voluntary basis and the Testaments would become the personal property of the students.

PAYMENT of bills, including teacher and maintenance employee salaries amounting to $39,918.52 was authorized. A list of the bills had been provided board members, along with minutes of the previous meeting, but they were gone over again at the meeting.

Rost explained that the total was larger than usual by about $7,000 because it included some bills held over from the previous month while the new bookkeeping system was being installed. Aside from the $33,975.48 payroll, the biggest single item was $562.86 for gas and electricity. All told, there were 88 separate bills, only five of which were for more than $100.

Plans for board members to attend the convention of the Ohio Assn. of School Board Members and for Supt. W. A. Smith, WHS Prin. John Trace and Rost to attend the convention of the Ohio Assn. of School Administrators in Columbus Nov. 12-14 were worked out.

The board members, Robert Terhune, president, Charles Pensyl, Elmer Reed, Milbourne Flee and

The terms of Soviet Premier Bulganin's notes to British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet are not regarded in London as a propaganda stunt. A British informant did not indicate what action the British government intends to take as a result of the Russian move.

Bulganin's message kept Eden up almost all night. He consulted with Mollet by telephone. British and French consultations are believed taking place also with the United States.

The uneasy feeling that World War III could be only a spark; way began spreading among some of the British people.

There was no hysteria but beneath the outward calm many Britons were plainly worried. Some staunch Conservatives were asking whether Eden might have gone too far in the attack on Egypt.

The atmosphere in London changed overnight with Bulganin's warning that Britain must quit fighting in Egypt or face the possibility of Soviet armed intervention to restore peace.

"IF ROCKET weapons were used against England you would call it a barbarous action," Bulganin told Eden. "What is the difference between such an attack and the attack by Britain and France on an unprepared Egypt?"

Such words had a menacing tone to the British. Cairo radio said Egypt is breaking diplomatic and all other relations with Australia. The Australians have supported British-French moves in Egypt. The radio also said Arabs of Aden attacked British military camps today in that British protectorate.

In Amman, Jordan, the ground Mufti of Jordan, Sheikh Abdullah Qalqili, appealed today to all Jordanians to join a holy war against Britain, France and Israel.

He said the legitimate right of self-defense obliges every Arab and Moslem throughout the world to work on the side of Egypt.

Meanwhile, in Egypt, British armored forces went into action south of Port Said. Combined British-French headquarters on Cyprus said the tank-supported assaults "have gone well."

French troops captured the town of Port Fuad, across the canal. Other French forces were reported advancing south on the causeway from Port Said.

Egypt cried for volunteers from other nations.

Radio Cairo announced Saudi Arabia has sent troops into Jordan in support of Egypt. Other Arab troops, from Iraq and Syria, have been reported massing in Jordan, on Israel's eastern flank, but they have launched no attack.

"The Cairo newspaper Al Shaab exhorted its readers to slay parachute troops before they land. 'Kill him immediately and take his arms,' it said. 'The parachute trooper cannot defend himself while he is landing.'"

BRITAIN AND France threw their ground forces into action in Egypt to back up their parachute troops that opened the invasion of the canal area early Monday.

British commandos punched into Port Said to join the fighting that broke out again Monday night after local-level surrender talks were broken off.

Egyptian military headquarters in Cairo said British and French troops were being landed by sea and air at Port Said and reported the population "is fighting heroically in the streets." The statement added that the "situation is under control and morale is high." Egypt's government radio de-

Air raid warnings sounded again in Cairo for the seventh straight day and heavy explosions were reported east and northeast of the capital.

The Egyptian national news agency in a report from a correspondent in Port Said claimed "that about 400 civilians were killed fighting the paratroopers who landed in the first assault. The correspondent said the population of the port streamed into the fighting crying 'Long live Egypt' and 'Death to the enemy.'"

IN A RAPID series of moves, Soviet Premier Bulganin called on President Eisenhower for joint U. S.-Russian action under the U. N. to bring a halt to the fighting. Declaring the fighting "contains the danger of turning into a third world war," Bulganin urged action "within hours."

The proposal for American-Soviet intervention drew a speedy rejection from the U. S. government as "unthinkable" and later the U. N. Security Council refused even to debate it.

Bulganin also sent notes to British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet warning grimly against further action against Egypt and saying Russia was determined to re-establish peace "by using force."

His messages included references to "more powerful states" and rocket warfare.

The British government had no immediate comment on the Soviet message.

Mrs. George Geesling, treasurer reported that more than $300 was collected from the Halloween Carnival.

The group voted to donate $5 to the Community Chest.

Mrs. L. C. Johnson, president, reported that the senior class will sponsor a turkey dinner Nov. 18 at Wayne Hall. There also will be a festival, supper and square dance at Chaffin School Nov. 10.

It was decided that the next PTO meeting, Dec. 3 will be Men's Night. Committees were appointed to plan the program. They are: Program L. C. Hoppes, Paul Pope and Ted Kneisley; Social Roy Geesling, George Allis, Jr., Dale Thompson and Joe Bonham.

Monday night's program committee consisted of Mrs. George Conaway and Mrs. George Caplinger who presented the Rev. Ralph Yoss. Mr. Yoss spoke of the importance of investing in the future of children.

Mrs. N. M. Reiff showed a film on cancer research and discussed the danger signs of cancer.

May Jo Hoppes opened the meeting with a vocal number accompanied at the piano by her sister, Edna Mae.

Better Education Effort Is Urged

CLEVELAND (AP)—Teachers and school administrators in this country must continue to improve and expand their educational efforts because Russia is counting on education in its efforts to communicate the world, a university president said here Monday.

"We must make higher education available to a larger percentage of our young people than at present," said Norman P. Auburn, president of the University of Akron. "To accomplish this we must make the public realize its responsibility to enable us to do our job adequately."

School Board Meet Devoted to Routine Business

Bond Issue Proposal Is Held Legal by Legal Consultants

Members of the Washington C. H. Board of Education were given a full and detailed list of all contents of the safety deposit box at their regular meeting Monday night.

After going over the list (which had been given to them previously for study) and a minimum of discussion, it was approved and entered in the minutes.

Also made a part of the official record were the transfers of two small tracts from the Miami Trace school district to the Washington C. H. district. One was that of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipschutz on Highland Ave. and the other was that owned by Mr. and Mrs. Welden Kaufman on Dayton Ave.

The $645,000 building program bond issue proposal, on which the residents of Washington C. The letter, a reply to one by Rost asking the firm's interpretation of section 113.10 of Ohio law, was made a part of the minutes, too.

Miss Becky Waters, a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and the University of Kentucky, was placed on the elementary teacher substitute list on a per diem basis.

... THERE WAS considerable discussion of a suggestion that organizations be permitted to provide covers for school-owned textbooks and, in the end, the board gave its approval, provided there is no commercial advertising on them.
